Midland Given Park Tract

The Crucible Steel Co. announced today it is donating a 160-acre tract to Midland for use as a public park.

The deed to the property will be presented to borough officials at Council meeting tonight at 8 by Walter E. Gregg, vice president of operations of the Midland Works.

The property, triangular in shape, extends from the borough's west border along the north to a point just east of the reservoir. Its southern line runs from near Midland Ave. on the western end and near Virginia Ave. at the eastern.

"In giving the property to the people of Midland, Crucible is confident that its development will add natural beauty to the borough and provide its citizens with a park for relaxation, picnicking and recreation," Gregg said.

"Our government has been urging urban areas to provide Green Belts surrounding their communities for parks and recreational areas. We are assuring Midland of its Green Belt by donating this land for park use only," he said.

Mayor Eli G. Corak said that specific plans for improving and developing the property have not been completed. But a picnic area and recreational facilities "will certainly be included in the program."

The tract is part of the property originally acquired in 1912 from Mr. and Mrs. John W. Dougherty.

Ohio Races Attract 70 Candidates

Democratic Bid For Governor To Highlight Primary

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 1962 political campaign in Ohio is on—the first election in which all administrative state offices are up for grabs for four-year terms at the same time.

Another flood of candidates poured into the office of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown Wednesday before the filing deadline fell at 4 p.m. The total came close—but failed to exceed—the all-time record of 77 primary candidates set in 1926.

Ohioans of both parties can choose among 70 candidates at the May 8 primary elections.

The candidates are running for nomination for all six administrative posts, a seat in the U.S. Senate, an at-large seat in the U.S. House, the post of chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court and two other seats on the high court.

By all odds the most interesting primary contest will be the race for the Democratic nomination for governor. Until almost the last minute, it appeared Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy would have the fight all to themselves. Then, a couple of hours before the deadline, Alexander G. Metrakos, 40, of Cleveland filed petitions to make it a three-way race. Still, Metrakos doesn't figure to cut much ice in the contest.

By far the most numerous are Democratic candidates for the n post of congressman - at - large. There are 11.

Only seven lucky hopefuls failed to draw primary opposition.

Veteran Secretary of State Brown, a Republican, was one. Lt. Gov. John W. Donahey, a Democrat who seeks to shift to the state auditor's office was another. Thomas E. Ferguson, who wants to succeed his father, Democratic state Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson.

On the judicial ticket, Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of Lakewood, a Democrat who has held the post 33 years, is unopposed for renomination as is his November opponent, Supreme Court Judge Kingsley A. Taft.

Were Missing In Nassau Waters

Jayne Mansfield, Mate And Friend Found Safe

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — A U.S. Coast Guard search plane found actress Jayne Mansfield, her husband and a friend on the eastern tip of Rose Island today.

The trio was spotted by a Nassau Development Board plane which notified the Coast Guard.

A chartered fishing boat, the "Blades," picked up the three and left for Nassau.

Their condition was not reported.

The search began Wednesday when the three, Jayne, her husband, Mickey Hargitay, and their Fort Lauderdale, Fla., companion, Jack Drury, failed to return from a day-long water skiing trip.

The U.S. Coast Guard at Miami, Fla., sent a big Albatross amphibious plane at dawn to help Bahamas rescue units and volunteer yachtsmen sweep the seas in the area and scan the nine-mile-long, half-mile-wide island which has no telephones and only two or three seldom-used cottages.

Searchers hoped the missing trio, strong swimmers, made Rose Island.

The capsized boat — which resembled the 16-foot outboard that towed the water skiers out Wednesday noon — was found afloat bottom-up a quarter-mile off the island at sundown by a fisherman. The steering shaft bracket was broken.

The veteran charter boat Captain Milton Pearce examined it at Nassau and said, "There's no doubt this is the boat they went out with."

Pearce said the 16-foot white outboard craft was the only such boat for hire by its owner, who rented his craft to the water-skiers.

The break in the steering column bracket was fresh and the boat could not have been steered with the fitting broken," Pearce said. "I don't know how the break occurred."

Pearce said a gasoline tank which was in the boat when it departed Nassau apparently had drifted away.

"I went down to look at it and it looks like their boat," said Carl Livingston of the Bahamas Development Board who watched the water-skiers push off.

Jayne, in a brief swimsuit, and Hargitay, a former Mr. Universe, had skiied gaily out of Nassau behind the outboard motor boat driven by Drury.

Photographers pursued the trio by boat for more than a mile and said nothing seemed amiss when the photo boat turned back.

The trio failed to return as planned at 4 p.m. and missed a scheduled news conference at 6 p.m. At 8:30 p.m. Capt. Durward Knowles, chief of the Air-Sea Rescue Unit, dispatched three craft to scour the area which remained calm to slightly choppy.

Miss Mansfield, 28, and Hargitay, 32, are the parents of three children. Two of the children were by the actress's marriage to Hargitay.

Democrats Unopposed For May 8

Republicans Also Have 2 Running For Auditor Post

A four-way Republican race for nomination to a single post as county commissioner and a two-way GOP contest for the county auditor's nomination will highlight the primary elections May 8.

When the filing deadline passed Wednesday at 4 p. m. at the County Election Board's office, not a single race had developed on the Democratic ticket and the two other incumbent Republicans were left unopposed.

The wide-open GOP contest for the commissioner's nomination has this field:

Samuel B. Webber of Idaho Ave., a former city councilman; James W. Boyd of St. Clair Ave. Ext., operator of the Boyd Lumber Co. at Glenmoor; Ernest A. Lowe of Wedgewood St., manager of the Mason Color & Chemical Co., and William H. Weir of Salem R. D. 2, operator of a Salem wallpaper and paint store.

The two hold-over commissioners are Republicans — Walter Hunston of East Palestine and Galen Greenisen of near Salem.

In the GOP race for the county auditor's nomination are Mrs. Gloria L. McElroy of Owens Rd., Wellsville, a housewife and a former pottery office worker, and T. Emerson Smith of Salem, former county chairman of his party and one-time member of the Election Board.

Left unopposed on the GOP slate were State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon, running for his seventh term, and Judge Raymond S. Buzzard of St. Clair Ave., asking a second term on the Common Pleas Court bench. Judge Joel H. Sharp is the hold-over member of the Common Pleas Court.

The two incumbent Democrats have no opposition. They are

In Pending Contract Talks

USW To Stress Security, Protection For Jobless

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steelworkers Union will strive for substantial improvements in job security and unemployment protection for the nation's 430,000 basic steelworkers in contract talks opening next Wednesday in this steel capital.

Officials of the union formulated their 1962 contract demands in three days of conferences ending Wednesday. The current contract expires June 30.

It became evident the steelworkers are chiefly interested in obtaining stronger provisions to protect their jobs and provide them more money when they are laid off in slack periods. They say their security is being swept away by technological advances.

The union called for a shorter work week but made no specific demand.

USW President David J. McDonald said he feels the atmosphere prevailing between the union and companies is much better than it was prior to the strike-producing 1959 negotiations.

R. Conrad Cooper, who will be the top negotiator for big steel, expressed a somewhat sympathetic feeling toward the union's position.

"We recognize that improved employment security of the steelworkers is of primary concern in these negotiations, and while there is no agreement as to the means by which this can be achieved most effectively, there is no doubt as to its importance as a general objective," he said.

In the talks started Wednesday the USW will demand:

1. Improvement and expansion of unemployment benefits for workers not given the opportunity to work full-time.

2. Improvements in seniority systems to make sure long-service employes are not furloughed while newer employes are working.

3. Training and retraining programs so employes will be qualified for available jobs.

4. A reduction in overtime work while other employes are laid off.

5. New vacations for veteran employes and lengthening of regular vacations.

6. Higher wages.

McDonald confirmed that things have been speeded up to get negotiations underway as soon as possible in accordance with a request by President Kennedy.

The President wants a new contract signed early enough to prevent a major stockpiling of steel. He said stockpiling would deflate the nation's economy later in the year.

The present contract provides hourly wages ranging from $2.28½ to $4.38½.

Self-Inflicted Shot Claims Killer Of Girl

Slayer Uses Pistol As Patrolman Nears Death Car At Salem

A 43-year-old Pittsburgh railroad worker who fatally shot his 17-year-old woman companion Wednesday afternoon and fired a bullet into his head later at a Salem hospital parking lot, died this morning at Youngstown South Side Hospital.

Ben L. Foster, who apparently fired four shots into Mary Lou Dennis of Rices Landing, Pa., early yesterday afternoon, died this morning at 9:20 at the Youngstown hospital where he was rushed yesterday for brain surgery.

State Highway Patrolman Ralph Reed of Lisbon was stopped by Foster yesterday afternoon at 12:40 at the intersection of Routes 7 and 46 north of Middleton and asked to escort him to Salem to a hospital.

The wounded girl and her 17-month-old daughter, Carol Ann, were in the car with Foster who told Reed, "My wife has been shot." The girl and child were in the back seat.

Ballot Lists 10 Levies Of Subdivisions

Ten special questions and issues are scheduled for a vote at the May 8 primaries, including two filed with the County Election Board shortly before the deadline Wednesday.

Salem entered a half-mill levy to provide funds for a recreation program. It would be in effect five years.

Wellsville filed a half-mill levy for renewal to provide funds for flood wall maintenance. It also would be in effect five years.

All the other propositions had been entered earlier, including three countywide levies totaling 1.7 mills.

County commissioners filed three separate propositions, asking eight-tenths of a mill for general operating expenses, seven-tenths of a mill for improvements at the County Home and two-tenths of a mill for operation of the Retarded Children's School at Elkton.

Similar propositions for County Home improvements and operating expenses were rejected at the general election in November. The issue to support the Retarded Children's School never has been presented before. Previously supported by private funds, the school recently was made the county's responsibility.

Also filed previously were these propositions: Lisbon village, 3 mills for current operating expenses; Lisbon School District, renewal of three levies totaling 16

Both Parties Have District Senate Races

But Neither Faces Contest For 18th Congressional Post

Both Republicans and Democrats will have May 8 primary contests for the nomination for state senator in the four-county 20th-22nd District, but Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, veteran Democrat, is assured of nomination for his eighth term as 18th District Congressman.

Although no last - minute candidates appeared, Republicans had a three-way contest lined up for state senator and a two-way race was listed for the Democrats when the filing deadline passed Wednesday afternoon at 4 at the County Election Board's office.

The two Democratic candidates for state senator both are incumbents, but because the number of seats in the next term will be cut to one as a result of periodic reapportionment each party will pick a lone nominee in the primary.

The incumbents asking nomination are Sen. Arthur Blake of Martins Ferry R. D. 1, out for a seventh term, and Sen. Edmund A. Sargus of St. Clairsville, seeking his second.

Bidding for the Republican nomination are Atty. Donald W. Elliott of Rogers; Allen J. Dalrymple of Wellsville R. D. 1, oper-

Kennedy Hints Go-Ahead On Nuclear Tests In Air

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Britain announced today agreement on Christmas Island in the Pacific as a site for U.S. nuclear atmospheric test programs. They also called for an East - West foreign ministers meeting on disarmament.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has indicated he will order a go-ahead by the end of this month for resumed U.S. nuclear testing in the atmosphere over the central Pacific.

An announcement is expected today on agreement between the United States and Britain for the use of Christmas Island, more than a thousand miles south of Hawaii, as a test site.

At his news conference Wednesday the President in effect added a new condition for any future test ban treaty with the Soviet Union—measures to prevent secret preparations for testing. This would be in addition to measures to prevent sneak tests.

Kennedy said that in view of the "secretly prepared and massive series of 40 to 50 tests conducted by the Soviet Union last fall," final studies on resumed U.S. air tests should be completed "within the month." His decision on testing then will be made.

Pointing out that he already has initiated preparations for testing, Kennedy declared: "I shall not hesitate to order the tests themselves if it is decided that they are necessary to maintain the effective deterrent strength of the United States."

He repeatedly emphasized he has not reached a final decision. But the weight of his comments indicated his trend of thinking is along the line that further U.S. testing will be shown to be necessary when studies, involving the State and Defense Departments, the Atomic Energy Commission, the Central Intelligence Agency and the White House staff, are completed.

Weather Satellite Rocketed Into Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Tiros IV, the fourth in a series of high-flying electronic weathermen, soared in to orbit today to photograph the earth's cloud cover.

The 285-pound camera-carrying satellite rose skyward in the nose of a 90-foot Thor-Delta rocket which blasted off a 7:44 a.m.

All three stages of the booster fired on schedule and two hours later the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that the package was in orbit about 400 miles above the earth.

German Mine Blast Deaths Mount To 270

SAARBRUECKEN, Germany (AP)—The Saar Valley counted 270 dead and 83 seriously injured today in Germany's second worst coal mining disaster.

Up to 70 miners are believed still missing.

The bodies of miners—burned, gassed or crushed under tons of coal and rock—were being extricated by rescue teams more than 30 hours after a massive firedamp explosion in Luisenthal mine near here Wednesday.

The death toll reached 270 when officials of the Saar State Mining Office said 268 bodies had been brought to the surface and two had died in hospital.

The number still buried in the caved-in debris of the mine's fourth level 1,800 feet underground was uncertain. One report said that as many as 70 miners might still be underground. Another report said that the number could be less than 10.

Murder Trial Jury Call Set

Venire Of 75 To Be Drawn On Friday

A special venire of 75 names will be drawn Friday at Lisbon as prospective jurors for the first degree murder trial of William Boyd Jr., 22, of Pennsylvania Ave. Ext., charged with the fatal shooting of his wife, Nancy Lee Boyd, in November.

Trial is slated March 12 for Boyd, whose estranged wife's body was found along Beaver Creek after she had been missing for a week.

All 75 prospective jurors will be served summonses personally as required in a first degree murder case.

Trial will begin Tuesday for Russell H. Miner, 19, of Salem, indicted for second degree manslaughter in the traffic death of Raymond C. Shofstahl, 53, of Petersburg Nov. 5 on Route 14 near Columbiana. Judge Raymond Buzzard will preside.

Trial for Richard Masterson, 25, of Columbiana R. D. will start Feb. 15, Prosecutor William Brokaw said. Masterson is charged with carrying a concealed weapon and burglary of Smith's Feed Mill near Cannons Mills Dec. 26. The concealed weapon charge will be tried first, and the burglary trial Feb. 19.

Man In Burning Car Saved And Then Fined

A Wellsville man who was pulled from his burning car Wednesday at 6:35 p. m. was fined for disorderly conduct and intoxication.

Lloyd Fielding, 1033 Commerce St., was spotted in the car at 9th and Commerce Sts. by two passing pedestrians.

Fielding was slumped on the horn and the motor was racing "wide open." Firemen said the blaze was under the hood but the interior of the car was filled with smoke.

They said the fire could have been started by the overheated motor or a short in the horn.

Firemen said the two men, Lester Jarvis of Broadway and Charles Petty of the Old Salineville Rd., pulled Fielding from the blazing vehicle and summoned the department. In the meantime, the men administered artificial respiration to Fielding on the sidewalk.

Fielding was fined a total of $25 and costs on the charges at a hearing this morning before Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville.

Public Meeting Set

Commissioners Will Air County Home Charges

LISBON — Columbiana County Commissioners Galen Greenisen and Walter Hunston announced today a public meeting is planned Feb. 15 at the Village Hall here to answer what they called "false" statements in a County Board of Visitors report issued Monday concerning the County Home.

Greenisen of Salem R. D., president of the commissioners, and Hunston of East Palestine—both Republicans—said they were "amazed" that the members of the committee would permit some of the statements to be made and published without "verifying the authenticity."

The commissioners were apparently referring primarily to the statement's initial claim that royalties from crude oil produced on the County Home's farm have not been collected for the past several years, although the lessee has been obtaining oil regularly.

Greenisen and Hunston said, "In fairness to the lessee (C. F. Ellyson of East Rochester) and the people of Columbiana County, the lessee has never been in arrears 'for several years.' As of Jan. 1, 1961, he was in arrears one year, and in August 1961 he was called before the commissioners and he agreed to pay in the very near future."

"On Dec. 1 he was ordered to pay in full or cease pumping oil and he subsequently paid $143.31, or one-eighth share or standard

Hancock Gets Longer Filing

Deadline Extended To Seek Board Post

A special extension of the filing deadline for Board of Education candidates has been granted by the West Virginia Legislature permitting other candidates to file for two seats on the Hancock County school board until midnight Saturday.

L. H. (Lou) Hill, Circuit Court clerk at New Cumberland, was notified this morning of the extension by Atty. General C. Donald Robertson.

Miss Jeane Bennett, clerk in the New Cumberland office, said the extension was granted to clear up confusion over the filing deadline.

A section of the law governing filings provides candidates must file by the 14th Saturday before the primary while another section sets the deadline at 30 days before the primary. Primaries are scheduled May 8.

The legislature took the action because some prospective candidates may have relied on the disputed deadline, county officials were told.

The letter emphasized the extension applies only to Board of Education races throughout the state and will not be in effect after this year.

Six candidates filed for two Grant District seats before the original deadline last Saturday. They include J. Fred Allison of Newell and John W. Boyd, incumbent members, and George Vukas and Anthony E. Laneve, both of Newell, John C. Abrams of Chester and John Paul Jones of New Cumberland.

Were Missing In Nassau Waters

Jayne Mansfield, Mate And Friend Found Safe

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — A U.S. Coast Guard search plane found actress Jayne Mansfield, her husband and a friend on the eastern tip of Rose Island today.

The trio was spotted by a Nassau Development Board plane which notified the Coast Guard.

A chartered fishing boat, the "Blades," picked up the three and left for Nassau.

Their condition was not reported.

The search began Wednesday when the three, Jayne, her husband, Mickey Hargitay, and their Fort Lauderdale, Fla., companion, Jack Drury, failed to return from a day-long water skiing trip.

The U.S. Coast Guard at Miami, Fla., sent a big Albatross amphibious plane at dawn to help Bahamas rescue units and volunteer yachtsmen sweep the seas in the area and scan the nine-mile-long, half-mile-wide island which has no telephones and only two or three seldom-used cottages.

Searchers hoped the missing trio, strong swimmers, made Rose Island.

The capsized boat — which resembled the 16-foot outboard that towed the water skiers out Wednesday noon — was found afloat bottom-up a quarter-mile off the island at sundown by a fisherman. The steering shaft bracket was broken.

The veteran charter boat Captain Milton Pearce examined it at Nassau and said, "There's no doubt this is the boat they went out with."

Pearce said the 16-foot white outboard craft was the only such boat for hire by its owner, who rented his craft to the water-skiers.

The break in the steering column bracket was fresh and the boat could not have been steered with the fitting broken," Pearce said. "I don't know how the break occurred."

Pearce said a gasoline tank which was in the boat when it departed Nassau apparently had drifted away.

"I went down to look at it and it looks like their boat," said Carl Livingston of the Bahamas Development Board who watched the water-skiers push off.

Jayne, in a brief swimsuit, and Hargitay, a former Mr. Universe, had skiied gaily out of Nassau behind the outboard motor boat driven by Drury.

Photographers pursued the trio by boat for more than a mile and said nothing seemed amiss when the photo boat turned back.

The trio failed to return as planned at 4 p.m. and missed a scheduled news conference at 6 p.m. At 8:30 p.m. Capt. Durward Knowles, chief of the Air-Sea Rescue Unit, dispatched three craft to scour the area which remained calm to slightly choppy.

Miss Mansfield, 28, and Hargitay, 32, are the parents of three children. Two of the children were by the actress's marriage to Hargitay.

Slayer Uses Pistol As Patrolman Nears Death Car At Salem

A 43-year-old Pittsburgh railroad worker who fatally shot his 17-year-old woman companion Wednesday afternoon and fired a bullet into his head later at a Salem hospital parking lot, died this morning at Youngstown South Side Hospital.

Ben L. Foster, who apparently fired four shots into Mary Lou Dennis of Rices Landing, Pa., early yesterday afternoon, died this morning at 9:20 at the Youngstown hospital where he was rushed yesterday for brain surgery.

State Highway Patrolman Ralph Reed of Lisbon was stopped by Foster yesterday afternoon at 12:40 at the intersection of Routes 7 and 46 north of Middleton and asked to escort him to Salem to a hospital.

The wounded girl and her 17-month-old daughter, Carol Ann, were in the car with Foster who told Reed, "My wife has been shot." The girl and child were in the back seat.

The two cars sped to Salem

Man In Burning Car Saved And Then Fined

A Wellsville man who was pulled from his burning car Wednesday at 6:35 p. m. was fined for disorderly conduct and intoxication.

Lloyd Fielding, 1033 Commerce St., was spotted in the car at 9th and Commerce Sts. by two passing pedestrians.

Fielding was slumped on the horn and the motor was racing "wide open." Firemen said the blaze was under the hood but the interior of the car was filled with smoke.

They said the fire could have been started by the overheated motor or a short in the horn.

Firemen said the two men, Lester Jarvis of Broadway and Charles Petty of the Old Salineville Rd., pulled Fielding from the blazing vehicle and summoned the department. In the meantime, the men administered artificial respiration to Fielding on the sidewalk.

Fielding was fined a total of $25 and costs on the charges at a hearing this morning before Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville.

Ballot Lists 10 Levies Of Subdivisions

Ten special questions and issues are scheduled for a vote at the May 8 primaries, including two filed with the County Election Board shortly before the deadline Wednesday.

Salem entered a half-mill levy to provide funds for a recreation program. It would be in effect five years.

Wellsville filed a half-mill levy for renewal to provide funds for flood wall maintenance. It also would be in effect five years.

All the other propositions had been entered earlier, including three countywide levies totaling 1.7 mills.

County commissioners filed three separate propositions, asking eight-tenths of a mill for general operating expenses, seven-tenths of a mill for improvements at the County Home and two-tenths of a mill for operation of the Retarded Children's School at Elkton.

Similar propositions for County Home improvements and operating expenses were rejected at the general election in November. The issue to support the Retarded Children's School never has been presented before. Previously supported by private funds, the school recently was made the county's responsibility.

Also filed previously were these propositions: Lisbon village, 3 mills for current operating expenses; Lisbon School District, renewal of three levies totaling 16

Both Parties Have District Senate Races

But Neither Faces Contest For 18th Congressional Post

Both Republicans and Democrats will have May 8 primary contests for the nomination for state senator in the four-county 20th-22nd District, but Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, veteran Democrat, is assured of nomination for his eighth term as 18th District Congressman.

Although no last - minute candidates appeared, Republicans had a three-way contest lined up for state senator and a two-way race was listed for the Democrats when the filing deadline passed Wednesday afternoon at 4 at the County Election Board's office.

The two Democratic candidates for state senator both are incumbents, but because the number of seats in the next term will be cut to one as a result of periodic reapportionment each party will pick a lone nominee in the primary.

The incumbents asking nomination are Sen. Arthur Blake of Martins Ferry R. D. 1, out for a seventh term, and Sen. Edmund A. Sargus of St. Clairsville, seeking his second.

Bidding for the Republican nomination are Atty. Donald W. Elliott of Rogers; Allen J. Dalrymple of Wellsville R. D. 1, oper-

Public Meeting Set

Commissioners Will Air County Home Charges

LISBON — Columbiana County Commissioners Galen Greenisen and Walter Hunston announced today a public meeting is planned Feb. 15 at the Village Hall here to answer what they called "false" statements in a County Board of Visitors report issued Monday concerning the County Home.

Greenisen of Salem R. D., president of the commissioners, and Hunston of East Palestine—both Republicans—said they were "amazed" that the members of the committee would permit some of the statements to be made and published without "verifying the authenticity."

The commissioners were apparently referring primarily to the statement's initial claim that royalties from crude oil produced on the County Home's farm have not been collected for the past several years, although the lessee has been obtaining oil regularly.

Greenisen and Hunston said, "In fairness to the lessee (C. F. Ellyson of East Rochester) and the people of Columbiana County, the lessee has never been in arrears 'for several years.' As of Jan. 1, 1961, he was in arrears one year, and in August 1961 he was called before the commissioners and he agreed to pay in the very near future."

"On Dec. 1 he was ordered to pay in full or cease pumping oil and he subsequently paid $143.31, or one-eighth share or standard

Democrats Unopposed For May 8

Republicans Also Have 2 Running For Auditor Post

A four-way Republican race for nomination to a single post as county commissioner and a two-way GOP contest for the county auditor's nomination will highlight the primary elections May 8.

When the filing deadline passed Wednesday at 4 p. m. at the County Election Board's office, not a single race had developed on the Democratic ticket and the two other incumbent Republicans were left unopposed.

The wide-open GOP contest for the commissioner's nomination has this field:

Samuel B. Webber of Idaho Ave., a former city councilman; James W. Boyd of St. Clair Ave. Ext., operator of the Boyd Lumber Co. at Glenmoor; Ernest A. Lowe of Wedgewood St., manager of the Mason Color & Chemical Co., and William H. Weir of Salem R. D. 2, operator of a Salem wallpaper and paint store.

The two hold-over commissioners are Republicans — Walter Hunston of East Palestine and Galen Greenisen of near Salem.

In the GOP race for the county auditor's nomination are Mrs. Gloria L. McElroy of Owens Rd., Wellsville, a housewife and a former pottery office worker, and T. Emerson Smith of Salem, former county chairman of his party and one-time member of the Election Board.

Left unopposed on the GOP slate were State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon, running for his seventh term, and Judge Raymond S. Buzzard of St. Clair Ave., asking a second term on the Common Pleas Court bench. Judge Joel H. Sharp is the hold-over member of the Common Pleas Court.

The two incumbent Democrats have no opposition. They are

Hancock Gets Longer Filing

Deadline Extended To Seek Board Post

A special extension of the filing deadline for Board of Education candidates has been granted by the West Virginia Legislature permitting other candidates to file for two seats on the Hancock County school board until midnight Saturday.

L. H. (Lou) Hill, Circuit Court clerk at New Cumberland, was notified this morning of the extension by Atty. General C. Donald Robertson.

Miss Jeane Bennett, clerk in the New Cumberland office, said the extension was granted to clear up confusion over the filing deadline.

A section of the law governing filings provides candidates must file by the 14th Saturday before the primary while another section sets the deadline at 30 days before the primary. Primaries are scheduled May 8.

The legislature took the action because some prospective candidates may have relied on the disputed deadline, county officials were told.

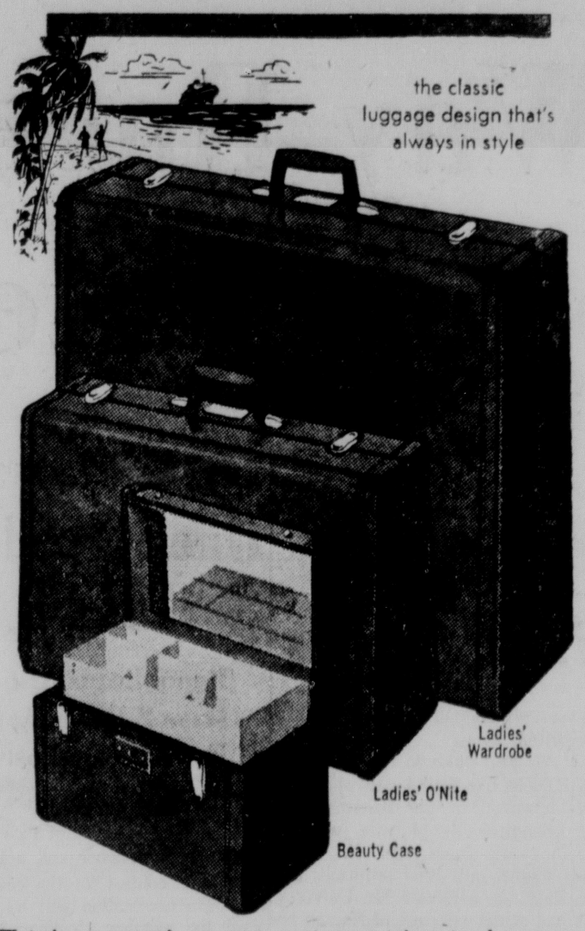

The letter emphasized the extension applies only to Board of Education races throughout the state and will not be in effect after this year.

Six candidates filed for two Grant District seats before the original deadline last Saturday. They include J. Fred Allison of Newell and John W. Boyd, incumbent members, and George Vukas and Anthony E. Laneve, both of Newell, John C. Abrams of Chester and John Paul Jones of New Cumberland.

Washington Proves The Point

Everything that had been feared about federal aid to education has boiled to the surface of the issue in Congress.

This needs to be understood.

It is the proof of a pudding whose eating has been a long time in the process.

What needed to be proved was that federal aid to education on an across-the-board basis was impossible without bickering over federal policy. Education would be less important than politics.

That has been proved.

The bickering in Congress a year ago was so distasteful that aid to education was put aside. No action was taken.

This year the subject has been reopened with a catch-all proposal calling for $5.7 billion over a five-year period. But there is the same unofficial report this year that was made last year.

IT SAYS federal aid to education will be sidetracked indefinitely because non-Catholic legislators never will go along with a proposal to extend aid to private and parochial schools.

Nor will non-segregationists go along with a proposal to extend federal aid to segregated schools, which would amount to subsidizing two school systems in states that never have been able to support one system satisfactorily.

These are precisely the complications that opponents of federal aid to education dreaded when they warned that Washington's monetary embrace would stifle local responsibility for education.

Once the embrace had been locked in place, local responsibility would diminish year by year until it disappeared. At that point, education would be at the mercy of federal aid patterns and techniques—and one of these would be federal blackmail.

IT IS no more or less than blackmail when the federal government tells local government it must do thus and so or forego its right to draw funds for an essential program. This would be education's dilemma if local responsibility for its financial support were undermined by federal grants. It would be at the mercy of obstructionists in Congress.

Once federal grants had become commonplace, it would be impossible to rally local support. State support would languish. Organized federal minorities would be in a perfect position to dictate terms to schools.

If anyone doubted it would be that way, one look at the situation in Washington right now should be enough to show what would happen. Congress is deadlocked because of a policy fight over education.

Good News!

For the second time within a year, the Titanium Metals Corp. of America has announced an expansion program at its Toronto plant in nearby Jefferson County.

Fourteen million dollars is to be spent and between 75 and 100 new jobs created.

This is good news industrial - wise. By their decision, officials of the titanium company have expressed a continued faith in the Upper Ohio Valley. Both the company and the district itself should benefit.

The expansion program is another welcome shot in the arm for the area's economy.

McNamara And The Sleigh

We never did believe the Russians could throw a child to a wolf pack following a sleigh, to save the lives of the other occupants. Russians are as compassionate as anybody else. It's only their politicians who turn savage.

For the same reason, we can't believe Secretary of Defense McNamara ever can go back to his duty to protect the 14 underlings who drew blue-pencil jobs when the incoming Kennedy administration said it would put up with no more irresponsible speechmaking by military personnel.

The secretary of defense has done everything he can to appease the wolves who would like to pin specific acts of censorship on individuals in the group of 14 so they could eat them alive. He has taken hours of his time to explain to questioners of the Senate Armed Services subcommittee investigating censorship why censorship was necessary and why he personally must bear responsibility for it.

Secretary McNamara must hold fast to this position, or he might as well head back for his job with the Ford Co. If he throws any of his 14 censors to the wolf pack, the morale of all his subordinates will be shattered.

These people were doing only what they were told to do. They were doing it to Secretary McNamara's satisfaction and to the satisfaction of President Kennedy, who made the decision to curb the speechmaking of generals and admirals beginning to sound a little like Algerian rebels.

No matter how hungry the wolves may be, Secretary McNamara's job is to run the Defense Department. He must keep everybody in the seligh; he can't throw anybody out. If he did, it might as well be a sacrifice named McNamara, which just might be what the wolves have in mind.

No Saucers; It's Official

The United States Air Force says it has checked out 7,369 reports of unidentified flying objects in 15 years and found not a single flying saucer or anything close to it.

In its years of tracking down UFO reports, says the Air Force, it has found birds, balloons, light phenomena and tricks but nothing from outer space.

This wraps it up, all starchy and official.

So who wants to bet there will not be another outbreak of flying saucer reports before the red tape on the Air Force report has faded?

The reports, when they are made, will come from all kinds of people with no motive for fooling the Air Force. And in all probability the sightings will be grouped in such a way as to prove they were not caused by imagination. Significant numbers of observers will see pretty much the same thing at the same time. And among them will be significant numbers of observers who cannot be accused of hysteria.

This will not prove a thing, except that human beings see things in the sky that challenge their credulity. They have been seeing them for centuries.

No one knows to this day what they see. But they keep seeing it—and not even the might and majesty of the U.S. Air Force will stop them.

Not even a red-tape-bound report will stop them. That's people for you.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Sharp censoring of statements on military and related matters by the Pentagon makes folks wonder how some of world's most famous words, poetic and otherwise, might have been cut. Possible samples:

Patrick Henry: "Give me liberty or give me death." (Censored to "Let me have conditions under which I can relax." Reference to liberty is a policy matter.)

Bunker Hill command: "Don't fire until you see the whites of their eyes." (Changed to "Don't be impatient." Decision on whites of eyes is top secret.)

Gen. McAuliffe at Bastogne: "Nuts." (Changed by Pentagon order to "Don't be ridiculous." It conveys similar thought without violating policy guidelines.)

Farragut: "Damn the torpedoes! Go ahead." (Changed to "Go forward regardless of risks." Profanity violates State Department code. Mention of torpedoes indicate to enemy we are aware it has underseas weapon.)

Brother, what Pentagon might have done to report on Barbara Frietchie:

"Up rose old Barbara Frietchie then, bowed by her four score years and ten. Up the street came the rebel tread, Stonewall Jackson riding ahead. 'Shoot if you must this old gray head, but spare your country's flag,' she said" Censored after quite a struggle to read ("Fearing flag in window might be fired on, elderly woman, living in Maryland, defied military unit which passed through without retaliation."

Use of words 'up rose Barbara Frietchie' not wise as it would reveal early hour of military movement. It is not administration policy to mention a lady's age, thus giving enemy important information on possible weakness of area defenses.)

Statement by H. W. Longfellow: "So through the night rode Paul Revere, and so through the night went the cry of alarm to every Middlesex village and farm; a cry of defiance and not of fear, a voice in the darkness, a knock at the door." (Censored to read "On April trip one P. Revere, aroused people that foe was on the march." There is no proof every Middlesex farm was covered. Whether a voice in darkness and knock on door are adequate in such a crisis is for the Department of Defense to decide.)

FIGURES SHOW TV TALKING HORSE got higher audience rating than FCC inquiry. Why not? A horse, talking or not, gets more kick in an act than FCC.

Four policemen and a few inspectors have been swiftly arrested following belated discovery that many homes are shoddily built. Why not pinch builders who are really guilty parties?

A possible major crisis for Washington now that Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kennedy are on world tour. Who minds the seven children and are enforcements in readiness?

Odd Facts

Tacoma, Wash. is the only U. S. city with moving sidewalks. These escalades, or motorized passageways, connect Pacific Ave., the center of banking and of major office buildings, with Broadway, the hub of the department stores and other retail activity — two blocks "up the hill." They have a capacity of carrying 7,200 persons per hour and travel 90 feet per minute.

Among early manufacturers of coins were the ancient Chinese. They shaped each coin according to what could be purchased with it. For example, coins shaped like the human body were called "dress money" and were used to buy clothing.

Pneumatic tires were patented in 1845 — about 50 years before there was any widespread or practical use for them — such as the automobile.

More than 800 letters are dropped into U.S. mailboxes every day without any addresses on their envelopes.

The Broken Record

Tito Still Helps Red Cause

By Victor Riesel

It is hereby respectfully submitted that Marshal Tito could make it easier on Dean Rusk and our State Department if the 70-year-old Yugoslav chief of state unaligned himself and his land from the Soviets in the underground as bravely as he does in the bright Serbian sunlight.

Victor Riesel

Mr. Broz (Tito) could, for example, refrain from sending his colleagues to special conferences called in Moscow to plan labor riots and sabotage against our embassies and bases across the world. Especially in the Latin world below the Rio Grande.

Mr. Broz, for example, might stop planning to aid Iron Curtain lands with supplies of chemicals, electronic equipment and other materials he can spare because of our shipments to his emerging land.

MR. BROZ might, for example, stop attacking efforts of anti-Communist African union leaders seeking to counter the Soviet-financed labor offensive on that burgeoning continent.

If this be reason—let's make the most of it. Specifically, on Dec. 1, one of Marshall Tito's comrades flew to Moscow. The colleague of Mr. Broz is one Svetozar Vukmanovic-Tempo.

He is chief of the Yugoslav Trade Union Federation. Apparently this business of being a Belgrade labor chief is not totally time consuming. Comrade Vukmanovic-Tempo also holds a high post in the Yugoslavian Communist Party's Politburo.

He and three other labor men arrived in Moscow. They were not tourists. For two weeks they attended the Fifth Global Congress of the World Federation of Trade Unions. Reports which I have continuously received from sources which are in a position to obtain them indicate that this Fifth Congress did plan "united" riots and demonstrations against the United States in Latin America.

It does seem reasonable, doesn't it, to have expected that the Yugoslavs might have criticised this in the intervening two months.

Comrade Vukmanovic-Tempo and his three fellow Yugoslav labor leaders, after all, do represent, in a fashion, their nation's workers. Or so it says in their Socialist literature.

THESE WORKERS have been kept in full lunch pails by billions of dollars of American aid. It seems rather unsportsmanlike, doesn't it, for their leaders to sit in on a global congress called specifically to destroy our prestige and military power.

Now it is quite possible that Marshal Tito was on one of his islands on Jan. 29. Lest he has not been informed, I report that on that day Mijalko Todorovic, chairman of the Yugoslav Federal Economic Council, met in great comradeship with Polish deputy premier, Piotr Jaroszewicz.

When the Polish leader left Belgrade he took with him faithful promises that the Yugoslavs would supply large quantities of machine building equipment, "electro-technical" supplies and chemicals. Also the equipment necessary for the building of these industries in Poland, which as of the last reading was still behind the Iron Curtain.

If these aren't potential war industries, I'll burn my college degree in Lafayette Park.

THEN THERE was an African labor conference you might have overlooked. It was called in Dakar, Senegal. Its leaders were friends of our nation. They spoke for labor federations in 30 African lands. These union chiefs are anti-Communist. They are sophisticated infighters. They had been watching Soviet attempts to launch an all-African Moscow-controlled labor federation.

So these anti-Communist union men met in mid-January. They set up the African Trade Union Confederation (ATUC). They championed no one land. They dedicated themselves to a fight on Soviet infiltration.

Who attacked the ATUC sessions? Right. The Yugoslavs. Their official newspaper Borba blistered our friends and championed the Communist-controlled Pan-African Trade Union Federation.

The stakes are high in Africa. Sometimes bloody, too. It is not, therefore, unreasonable to ask: On whose side, truly, is Marshal Tito wherever there is bitter infighting and the freedom of millions immediately involved?

Aid to Tito, as Dean Rusk says, is a calculated risk. But it does seem time for Mr. Broz to do some calculating on his own.

Let's have him understand what HE risks.

Already Down And Out

By Truman Twill

Nothing would please me more than to jump into the fight over Webster's Third New International Dictionary. But I couldn't hit a man who was already down and out.

The issue they're fighting about, which is whether or not some words are "colloquial" and therefore not good form, has been settled and over for a couple decades. The editors of the new dictionary thought so when they dumped the distinction between language in good standing and colloquialisms.

But the public is just catching up to reality and is in a sweat, as it always is when it learns that something has been changed while it wasn't watching. Language ain't what she used to be, dad — if it ever was what people say it used to be.

Language is communication and what the stuffed shirts have discovered to their disgust is that we common, ordinary working stiffs have just as much right to communicate as they have.

Always before when they borrowed words and phrases from us to spice their dull and unimaginative speech, they apologized for it. A colloquialism, they said, which was supposed to prove they really knew better but used it because it was cute.

What happened, however, was that the Lord kept right on loving the common people and made more of them than the other kind, which meant that the language they spoke, being more vigorous in the first place, gradually became the dominant influence.

The stuffed shirts with their grammar-teacher talk were left high and dry. The language shoe now is on the other foot. We common people think it's kinda cute when President Jack talks through his nose and says "Cuber" for "Cuba." We didn't hold it against Franklin Roosevelt for his funny lingo because it wasn't his fault he had been sent away to Groton and Hahvahd. It was just a bad break.

Radio and television came along, too. Except for the provincial twanging of the unconquered provinces in the South, nearly everybody now can understand everybody else in the language of electronese. Some of it is calculated to take 20 years off a schoolmarm's life, but it's tops in communication. Remember how the purists tizzied when a cigarette tasted good like a cigarette should. That wasn't the way to say it, they squawked. But most people didn't even know what the sqawk was about.

That's the difference between dictionary English and English as she is spoke by the working stiffs, who are now in full control of the language.

People who habitually speak and write the language have more to do with its usage in 24 hours than the purists who mull over its nuances and traces of vulgarity have to do with its usage in 24 years.

The users are now acknowledged to be in control, as in fact they always were.

Political Images

Party Success Seen Resting On Prosperity

Is the American electorate as fickle and superficial as it is sometimes said to be? Is a national election won because of something as vague as an "image" of the candidate or an "image" of his party?

David Lawrence

These questions arise now because of remarks made the other day by George Romney on the "Meet the Press" program of NBC. The same idea has been expressed by others. There seems to be a feeling that 60 million to 70 million voters are readily hoodwinked into accepting some spectacular personality or program when they vote for a presidential nominee and that basic issues and their true impact on the people are of incidental importance.

In answering a question as to whether, if he decides to run for the governorship of Michigan, he would run as a Republican or an Independent, Mr. Romney said: "If I announce, I will announce as a Republican who recognizes that the Republican image needs improvement."

Lately Mr. Romney has been spoken of as a possible presidential nominee on the Republican ticket in 1964. Since he became president of the American Motors Corp. in 1954, he has revitalized that company, and is the man who helped put over the compact car. Already some members of the press are suggesting that maybe Mr. Romney will be "another Willkie."

It will be recalled that in 1940 Wendell Willkie, who was president of a big public utility company, won the Republican nomination for the presidency over all opponents, including Sen. Robert A. Taft. It is being assumed today that he won that nomination because he was a dark horse of attractive personality and a so-called liberal who differed from the conservative bloc in the party.

The fact is that he was nominated because of a belief by conservatives that a man of big business would be a conservative and that such liberal ideas as he expressed were merely "campaign oratory" — a phrase that Mr. Willkie himself used in later days to brush aside some of his statements on public questions during the campaign.

The Republican Party fundamentally is conservative, and, when it nominated Dwight Eisenhower over Robert Taft in 1952, it was assumed that, while the general wouldn't go as far as the Ohio senator in embracing various policies, he would in the main be found on the conservative side. So he won the support of most Republicans and many independents.

MR. ROMNEY has had a good deal of executive experience and knows the problems of American business, but he has a long way to go to understand just why the present divisions in American politics exist. His television talk included the following comment:

"I am greatly concerned about the fact that the reform laws of the Roosevelt era, the labor laws and the other laws, have not been modernized to reflect current conditions. The same is true of the antitrust laws.

"I am greatly concerned about the excess concentration of power in collective bargaining, both on the part of employers and on the part of unions, and I think the conflict between our labor laws and our antitrust laws — the labor laws being premised on the principle of monopoly, and the antitrust laws being premised on the principle of competition—that that conflict in national economic policy must be resolved before we can again resume the type of economic progress of which we are capable."

This is well phrased, but it doesn't come to grips with the fundamental issues that touch human liberty.

Mr. Romney, for instance, also said: "I am opposed to right-to-work laws."

THESE LAWS go to the very heart of the principle of human freedom. Everyone has a right to a job if he is competent and nobody should be coerced into joining a union in order to get a job.

This is a civil liberty of paramount importance, though often lost sight of by crusaders in that realm.

It is doubtful whether many of the various "images" of what a political party is today can be regarded as accurate reflections of what the parties really stand for. Political parties appeal to the individual on a platform that promises to do more for the citizen's economic well being than might be expected from the rival party.

Elections are won because economic contentment or discontent influences the vast majority of the voters. Party loyalties are temporary and coincide only with the accomplishment of a state of economic prosperity on the domestic side or peace on the international front.

Depressions and recessions operate against the party in power, irrespective of the personal popularity of a party's candidate. Maintenance of peace rather than a trend toward war means more to the voter — especially if his sons are of draft age — than any principles of liberalism or any "image" of big business or big labor.

There's nothing wrong with the Republican party that a few mistakes on the economic side by the Democrats wouldn't cure. This could bring the Republicans the same kind of triumphs that Democrats have won under similar circumstances in the past.

Basically it's the party that fails to maintain prosperity which hands over the victory to the other side, and this is irrespective of the "image" the victorious candidate and his party may present to the public.

I am puzzled by the attitude of our city safety - service director, Robert Owen, concerning the complaints of the Sunnyside residents over the conditions that now exist in our area.

Anyone of average intelligence should agree that conditions could be improved.

We realize there are some necessary inconveniences to be endured in all road construction such as this, but it is the unnecessary hardships which we feel should be eliminated.

When Mr. Owen accepted the position as service director he became a public servant and he, too, should be a champion of the people as he so complimented Councilman Duffy.

Since he so obviously has nothing to lose, I would like to ask Mr. Owen what, if anything, do you stand to gain?

I do not think any of the residents of this area are unreasonable in their requests.

A safe, well-lighted access to the main part of town does not seem like an unreasonable request to me.

Washington Proves The Point

Everything that had been feared about federal aid to education has boiled to the surface of the issue in Congress.

This needs to be understood.

It is the proof of a pudding whose eating has been a long time in the process.

What needed to be proved was that federal aid to education on an across-the-board basis was impossible without bickering over federal policy. Education would be less important than politics.

That has been proved.

The bickering in Congress a year ago was so distasteful that aid to education was put aside. No action was taken.

This year the subject has been reopened with a catch-all proposal calling for $5.7 billion over a five-year period. But there is the same unofficial report this year that was made last year.

IT SAYS federal aid to education will be sidetracked indefinitely because non-Catholic legislators never will go along with a proposal to extend aid to private and parochial schools.

Nor will non-segregationists go along with a proposal to extend federal aid to segregated schools, which would amount to subsidizing two school systems in states that never have been able to support one system satisfactorily.

These are precisely the complications that opponents of federal aid to education dreaded when they warned that Washington's monetary embrace would stifle local responsibility for education.

Once the embrace had been locked in place, local responsibility would diminish year by year until it disappeared. At that point, education would be at the mercy of federal aid patterns and techniques—and one of these would be federal blackmail.

IT IS no more or less than blackmail when the federal government tells local government it must do thus and so or forego its right to draw funds for an essential program. This would be education's dilemma if local responsibility for its financial support were undermined by federal grants. It would be at the mercy of obstructionists in Congress.

Once federal grants had become commonplace, it would be impossible to rally local support. State support would languish. Organized federal minorities would be in a perfect position to dictate terms to schools.

If anyone doubted it would be that way, one look at the situation in Washington right now should be enough to show what would happen. Congress is deadlocked because of a policy fight over education.

Good News!

For the second time within a year, the Titanium Metals Corp. of America has announced an expansion program at its Toronto plant in nearby Jefferson County.

Fourteen million dollars is to be spent and between 75 and 100 new jobs created.

This is good news industrial - wise. By their decision, officials of the titanium company have expressed a continued faith in the Upper Ohio Valley. Both the company and the district itself should benefit.

The expansion program is another welcome shot in the arm for the area's economy.

McNamara And The Sleigh

We never did believe the Russians could throw a child to a wolf pack following a sleigh, to save the lives of the other occupants. Russians are as compassionate as anybody else. It's only their politicians who turn savage.

For the same reason, we can't believe Secretary of Defense McNamara ever can go back to his duty to protect the 14 underlings who drew blue-pencil jobs when the incoming Kennedy administration said it would put up with no more irresponsible speechmaking by military personnel.

The secretary of defense has done everything he can to appease the wolves who would like to pin specific acts of censorship on individuals in the group of 14 so they could eat them alive. He has taken hours of his time to explain to questioners of the Senate Armed Services subcommittee investigating censorship why censorship was necessary and why he personally must bear responsibility for it.

Secretary McNamara must hold fast to this position, or he might as well head back for his job with the Ford Co. If he throws any of his 14 censors to the wolf pack, the morale of all his subordinates will be shattered.

These people were doing only what they were told to do. They were doing it to Secretary McNamara's satisfaction and to the satisfaction of President Kennedy, who made the decision to curb the speechmaking of generals and admirals beginning to sound a little like Algerian rebels.

No matter how hungry the wolves may be, Secretary McNamara's job is to run the Defense Department. He must keep everybody in the seligh; he can't throw anybody out. If he did, it might as well be a sacrifice named McNamara, which just might be what the wolves have in mind.

No Saucers; It's Official

The United States Air Force says it has checked out 7,369 reports of unidentified flying objects in 15 years and found not a single flying saucer or anything close to it.

In its years of tracking down UFO reports, says the Air Force, it has found birds, balloons, light phenomena and tricks but nothing from outer space.

This wraps it up, all starchy and official.

So who wants to bet there will not be another outbreak of flying saucer reports before the red tape on the Air Force report has faded?

The reports, when they are made, will come from all kinds of people with no motive for fooling the Air Force. And in all probability the sightings will be grouped in such a way as to prove they were not caused by imagination. Significant numbers of observers will see pretty much the same thing at the same time. And among them will be significant numbers of observers who cannot be accused of hysteria.

This will not prove a thing, except that human beings see things in the sky that challenge their credulity. They have been seeing them for centuries.

No one knows to this day what they see. But they keep seeing it—and not even the might and majesty of the U.S. Air Force will stop them.

Not even a red-tape-bound report will stop them. That's people for you.

The Once Over

Sharp censoring of statements on military and related matters by the Pentagon makes folks wonder how some of world's most famous words, poetic and otherwise, might have been cut. Possible samples:

Patrick Henry: "Give me liberty or give me death." (Censored to "Let me have conditions under which I can relax." Reference to liberty is a policy matter.)

Bunker Hill command: "Don't fire until you see the whites of their eyes." (Changed to "Don't be impatient." Decision on whites of eyes is top secret.)

Gen. McAuliffe at Bastogne: "Nuts." (Changed by Pentagon order to "Don't be ridiculous." It conveys similar thought without violating policy guidelines.)

Farragut: "Damn the torpedoes! Go ahead." (Changed to "Go forward regardless of risks." Profanity violates State Department code. Mention of torpedoes indicate to enemy we are aware it has underseas weapon.)

Brother, what Pentagon might have done to report on Barbara Frietchie:

"Up rose old Barbara Frietchie then, bowed by her four score years and ten. Up the street came the rebel tread. Stonewall Jackson riding ahead. 'Shoot if you must this old gray head, but spare your country's flag,' she said" Censored after quite a struggle to read ("Fearing flag in window might be fired on, elderly woman, living in Maryland, defied military unit which passed through without retaliation."

Use of words 'up rose Barbara Frietchie' not wise as it would reveal early hour of military movement. It is not administration policy to mention a lady's age, thus giving enemy important information on possible weakness of area defenses.)

Statement by H. W. Longfellow: "So through the night rode Paul Revere, and so through the night went the cry of alarm to every Middlesex village and farm; a cry of defiance and not of fear, a voice in the darkness, a knock at the door." (Censored to read "On April trip one P. Revere, aroused people that foe was on the march." There is no proof every Middlesex farm was covered. Whether a voice in darkness and knock on door are adequate in such a crisis is for the Department of Defense to decide.)

FIGURES SHOW TV TALKING HORSE got higher audience rating than FCC inquiry. Why not? A horse, talking or not, gets more kick in an act than FCC.

Four policemen and a few inspectors have been swiftly arrested following belated discovery that many homes are shoddily built. Why not pinch builders who are really guilty parties?

A possible major crisis for Washington now that Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kennedy are on world tour. Who minds the seven children and are enforcements in readiness?

Odd Facts

Tacoma, Wash. is the only U. S. city with moving sidewalks. These escalades, or motorized passageways, connect Pacific Ave., the center of banking and of major office buildings, with Broadway, the hub of the department stores and other retail activity — two blocks "up the hill." They have a capacity of carrying 7,200 persons per hour and travel 90 feet per minute.

Among early manufacturers of coins were the ancient Chinese. They shaped each coin according to what could be purchased with it. For example, coins shaped like the human body were called "dress money" and were used to buy clothing.

Pneumatic tires were patented in 1845 — about 50 years before there was any widespread or practical use for them — such as the automobile.

More than 800 letters are dropped into U.S. mailboxes every day without any addresses on their envelopes.

The Broken Record

Tito Still Helps Red Cause

By Victor Riesel

It is hereby respectfully submitted that Marshal Tito could make it easier on Dean Rusk and our State Department if the 70-year-old Yugoslav chief of state unaligned himself and his land from the Soviets in the underground as bravely as he does in the bright Serbian sunlight.

Victor Riesel

Mr. Broz (Tito) could, for example, refrain from sending his colleagues to special conferences called in Moscow to plan labor riots and sabotage against our embassies and bases across the world. Especially in the Latin world below the Rio Grande.

Mr. Broz, for example, might stop planning to aid Iron Curtain lands with supplies of chemicals, electronic equipment and other materials he can spare because of our shipments to his emerging land.

MR. BROZ might, for example, stop attacking efforts of anti-Communist African union leaders seeking to counter the Soviet-financed labor offensive on that burgeoning continent.

If this be reason—let's make the most of it. Specifically, on Dec. 1, one of Marshall Tito's comrades flew to Moscow. The colleague of Mr. Broz is one Svetozar Vukmanovic-Tempo.

He is chief of the Yugoslav Trade Union Federation. Apparently this business of being a Belgrade labor chief is not totally time consuming. Comrade Vukmanovic-Tempo also holds a high post in the Yugoslavian Communist Party's Politburo.

He and three other labor men arrived in Moscow. They were not tourists. For two weeks they attended the Fifth Global Congress of the World Federation of Trade Unions. Reports which I have continuously received from sources which are in a position to obtain them indicate that this Fifth Congress did plan "united" riots and demonstrations against the United States in Latin America.

It does seem reasonable, doesn't it, to have expected that the Yugoslavs might have criticised this in the intervening two months.

Comrade Vukmanovic-Tempo and his three fellow Yugoslav labor leaders, after all, do represent, in a fashion, their nation's workers. Or so it says in their Socialist literature.

THESE WORKERS have been kept in full lunch pails by billions of dollars of American aid. It seems rather unsportsmanlike, doesn't it, for their leaders to sit in on a global congress called specifically to destroy our prestige and military power.

Now it is quite possible that Marshal Tito was on one of his islands on Jan. 29. Lest he has not been informed, I report that on that day Mijalko Todorovic, chairman of the Yugoslav Federal Economic Council, met in great comradeship with Polish deputy premier, Piotr Jaroszewicz.

When the Polish leader left Belgrade he took with him faithful promises that the Yugoslavs would supply large quantities of machine building equipment, "electro-technical" supplies and chemicals. Also the equipment necessary for the building of these industries in Poland, which as of the last reading was still behind the Iron Curtain.

If these aren't potential war industries, I'll burn my college degree in Lafayette Park.

THEN THERE was an African labor conference you might have overlooked. It was called in Dakar, Senegal. Its leaders were friends of our nation. They spoke for labor federations in 30 African lands. These union chiefs are anti-Communist. They are sophisticated infighters. They had been watching Soviet attempts to launch an all-African Moscow-controlled labor federation.

So these anti-Communist union men met in mid-January. They set up the African Trade Union Confederation (ATUC). They championed no one land. They dedicated themselves to a fight on Soviet infiltration.

Who attacked the ATUC sessions? Right. The Yugoslavs. Their official newspaper Borba blistered our friends and championed the Communist-controlled Pan-African Trade Union Federation.

The stakes are high in Africa. Sometimes bloody, too. It is not, therefore, unreasonable to ask: On whose side, truly, is Marshal Tito wherever there is bitter infighting and the freedom of millions immediately involved?

Aid to Tito, as Dean Rusk says, is a calculated risk. But it does seem time for Mr. Broz to do some calculating on his own.

Let's have him understand what HE risks.

Traffic Signs To Be Erected For Chester

Chester Council Wednesday night authorized two stop signs on Plutus Ave. for traffic approaching 9th St. and a stop sign on 10th St. for traffic approaching Phoenix Ave.

The requests were made by Councilmen Willis Bishop and Harry Davis.

Discussion was held concerning faulty conditions with a state-owned storm sewer on Carolina Ave. between 1st and 3rd Sts. which councilmen said had not been cleaned out for several years.

City Clerk Roy Cashdollar was instructed to advise State Road Commission officials at Pughtown and Moundsville the city will furnish sewer cleaning equipment and water if state crews will do the work.

Defense Chief Gets Backing Of President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has backed Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara in a tussle with Senate investigators and said he will not allow "harassment" of individual censors.

Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday that executive privilege should be invoked if necessary to keep a special Senate subcommittee from pinpointing which censor altered any particular speech.

The subcommittee is investigating Pentagon censorship practices. McNamara has given the senators a list of censors but has refused to tie individual censors to particular speeches. And he has forbidden subordinates to do so on the ground morale would be impaired.

Kennedy said he and McNamara could not "agree to a harassment of individuals who are only carrying out the policies dictated by their superiors."

The statement drew sparks from Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., a member of the special Senate subcommittee. Its inquiry was prompted by Thurmond's charge that military men who had tried to speak out against communism had been "muzzled."

Defense Chief Gets Backing Of President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has backed Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara in a tussle with Senate investigators and said he will not allow "harassment" of individual censors.

Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday that executive privilege should be invoked if necessary to keep a special Senate subcommittee from pinpointing which censor altered any particular speech.

The subcommittee is investigating Pentagon censorship practices. McNamara has given the senators a list of censors but has refused to tie individual censors to particular speeches. And he has forbidden subordinates to do so on the ground morale would be impaired.

Kennedy said he and McNamara could not "agree to a harassment of individuals who are only carrying out the policies dictated by their superiors."

The statement drew sparks from Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., a member of the special Senate subcommittee. Its inquiry was prompted by Thurmond's charge that military men who had tried to speak out against communism had been "muzzled."

Event Held At Steubenville

225 At Dinner Honoring Titanium Firm

USING A TITANIUM SHOVEL produced especially for the occasion, E. R. Rowley, president of the Titanium Metals Corp. of America, breaks ground at the site of a new $14 million expansion project at the finishing facility in Toronto. Employes of the mill in Jefferson County and many newsmen looked on in freezing weather during the ground-breaking ceremony Wednesday noon. From the left of the corporation president are Mayor Andrew Miller of Steubenville; Earl A. Neeb, plant manager; T. W. Lippert, director of marketing of TMCA, and Mayor Harry Hamilton of Toronto.

Some 225 attended an appreciation dinner Wednesday night in Steubenville honoring the Titanium Metals Corp. of America, which earlier yesterday announced a $14 million expansion at its Toronto plant to provide an additional 75-100 jobs.

E. R. Rowley, TMCA president, and Earl A. Neeb, manager of the Toronto plant, headed a delegation of company officials which attended the affair sponsored jointly by the Steubenville Area and Toronto Chambers of Commerce.

ROWLEY reviewed the expansion program, the second to be undertaken in the last year, which will boost the total number of employes at the Toronto plant to 700.

The largest expansion program in the 12-year history of the titanium mill product industry, it is aimed at meeting future requirements of the aerospace and chemical industries for wide, thin titanium sheets.

"We believe we are going to grow; we believe this is the area in which to base our growth and we hope that we will always merit your confidence which has played such a vital role in our progress to date," Rowley said.

"WE HAVE always felt that we had located in a solid community when we first moved into the area. Tonight the feeling is deeper. It is a conviction; a conviction that we have located in the best type of community a company could hope to find, an area willing to work for the success of its individual components and an area we are pleased to invite to share in our success because our success is community property," he added.

The TMCA president said, "A night like this puts flesh and blood on the bones we so often call industrial citizenship, and puts the spirit of mutual friendship and co-operation into a relationship that can slip so easily into just business."

Emerson V. Wood, executive manager of the Steubenville Chamber, was the toastmaster.

Mike Wroblewski has taken over a starring role for Kansas State after two seasons as understudy, and he's proving a resounding success in the Wildcats' drive for a fifth straight Big Eight basketball championship.

Wednesday night the 6-foot-8 senior equaled the conference scoring record by pouring in 46 points, just over half Kansas State's total in a 91-72 romp over Kansas.

While the nationally fourth-ranked Wildcats were winning with ease, the two other rated teams in action were being toppled. Villanova rapped sixth-ranked Duquesne 82-63 and Toledo surprised eighth-ranked Bowling Green 70-59.

Wroblewski, a clever jump shooter from South Bend, Indiana, moved in as a Wildcat first stringer this season after playing two varsity years in the shadow of Ced Price and compiling a 6.7-point scoring average.

Tex Winter's Kansas State club, 16-2 over-all, suffered their lone conference loss at Colorado Jan. 6 and trail the Buffaloes in the standings, 7-0 to 6-1.

Hubie White, Wally Jones and George Leftwich alternated as chief gunners for Villanova (16-4) as the Wildcats beat Duquesne (16-3) for the second time in three games this season. The Wildcats took charge midway in the opening half and held command the rest of the way. In the opener of the doubleheader at the Philadelphia Palestra, St. Joseph's (Pa.) drew away in the final 10 minutes and trimmed Georgetown (D.C.) 81-70.

Toledo broke in front early and stayed there in its upset of Bowling Green (15-2), pinning the first league loss of the season on the Mid-American Conference leaders. Larry Jones' 26 points led the Rockets in their home-court victory.

Loyola of Chicago, fast becoming recognized as one of the Midwest's top independents, pushed its record to 15-2 by running off from Western Michigan 102-79. DePaul outlasted Louisville in triple overtime 79-78 on key points by M. C. Thompson and Jesse Nash.

John Speaks netted 30 points and led repeated rallies for North Carolina State's Wolfpack in an 88-68 Atlantic Coast Conference victory at Virginia. Richmond ran up eight straight points in overtime and tripped VMI 82-81 in their Southern Conference game. St. Mary's of California took over first place in the West Coast Atheletic Conference from Los Angeles Loyola, shading the Lions 72-71.

Holy Cross bombed Seton Hall 111-84. West Virginia staved off a Pitt drive in the closing minutes and beat the Panthers 80-76.

Other results — Navy 76, Penn Military 40; Army 70, Colgate 63; LaSalle 91, Bucknell 78; Rutgers 102, Muhlenberg 83; Eastern Kentucky 84, Tennessee Tech 72; Iowa State 72; Oklahoma 66; Ohio University 87, Morehead 73; Air Force 62, New Mexico 56.

Toledo, Ohio U. Given New Hope In M-A Race

By The Associated Press

There may be a race yet in the Mid-American Conference.

Toledo smacked down Bowling Green 70-59 Wednesday night, and now both the Rockets and Ohio University's Bobcats sniff chances to catch up with the nation's eighth ranked basketball team.

Bowling Green's first MAC loss and second in 17 games over-all took the limelight. But Ohio U.'s 87-73 conquest of a good Morehead (Ky.) club and Xavier's 72-71 upset of Dayton earned co-feature billing on the night's 12-game Ohio college card.

In the Ohio Conference, challengers Wittenberg and Akron won, but so did league - leading Ohio Wesleyan. OWU's O.C. mark is 12-1. Wittenberg's 9-2 and Akron's 9-3 in the wake of the Bishops beating Denison 76-56, the Tigers taming Heidelberg 51-31 and the Zippers clipping Capital 59-47.

Other results Wednesday night: Defiance 91, Cedarville 83 in the Mid-Ohio League; Ohio Northern 106, Hillsdale (Mich.) 100 in a double-overtime; Steubenville over Geneva (Pa.) 65-57, Alliance (Pa.) over Youngstown 80-63, John Carroll over Washington & Jefferson 78-57, and Sue Bennett (Ky.) over Rio Grande 95-78.

Bowling Green (7-1) may have missed Wavey Junior, the regular declared ineligible this week. The Falcons were behind virtually all the way on Toledo's court and trailed 39-26 at the midway point. Toledo's Larry Jones led the scoring with 26 points while Butch Komives got 24 for B-G.

Toledo, which might be cloud-high by now if it could play all its games at home, moved into a second place tie in the MAC with Ohio U. at 4-2.

Ohio U. showed good form—between foul calls — in whipping Morehead at Athens. The Kentuckians have lost only 4 of 15 starts, and the Bobcats have dealt them two of those losses. Guards Dave Katz and Bill Whaley sparkled for the 'Cats in the game infested by 54 personals. They not only led the scoring with 19 and 15 points, respectively, but teamed to limit Morehead's Granny Williams to 12.

Cage Scandal Kingpin Due Sentencing Friday

NEW YORK (AP) — With another figure in the 1961 basketball scandals admitting complicity with a guilty plea, the court spotlight next focuses on the man termed the master fixer.

He is 28-year-old Aaron Wagman of New York, called the key man in the point-shaving scandals that have involved 37 players from 22 colleges. Wagman pleaded guilty last Nov. 30 to 38 counts of bribery and conspiracy and is due to be sentenced Friday in General Sessions Court. His possible penalty—370 years and up to $370,000 in fines.

Wednesday another New Yorker, Joseph Hacken, entered a guilty plea to two counts of bribing college players to juggle points. Hacken was arrested with Wagman last March 17 at the outset of the scandal disclosures and indicted two months later on 17 counts of bribery and one of conspiracy.

Judge Joseph A. Serafite continued Hacken free in $25,000 bail and set March 14 for sentencing. He faces a maximum of 10 years on each count.

Hacken pleaded guilty to offering $1,500 to Ray Paprocky of New York University to shave points in a game with Utah State Dec. 3, 1960, in a fix that didn't come off, and of paying $1,000 to Hank Gunter of Seton Hall for shaving points against Holy Cross on Feb. 12, 1961.

Detroit, New York Play 2-2 Hockey Tie

By The Associated Press

The head-on clash of New York and Detroit for the last National Hockey League playoff spot was advertised as a "four point" game, but it turned out to be a one-pointer.

The two teams skated to a 2-2 tie in New York Wednesday night that left their positions in the standings unchanged, the fourth-place Rangers holding a one-point lead over the Red Wings.

Boston and Toronto also tied 2-2 in a mild game at Toronto that produced only one penalty, late in the final period.

The two games followed much the same pattern. Toronto came from behind twice to tie the Bruins, and New York came from behind twice to tie the Red Wings.

Laver Lists Goals Before Turning Pro

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Rod Laver, the world's amateur tennis king, said today he would like to reach two goals before he submits to tempting professional offers.

"I'd like to match Don Budge's grand slam," added the bandy-legged Wimbledon champion from Australia, "and I'd like to win the first open tournament—as an amateur.

"I'm going all out this year, to get the first of these—that is, winning the Australian, French, Wimbledon and U.S. titles all in a single season. There are some 'ifs' connected with the second one, but if we get open tennis in the next few years, I think an amateur could do it."

The lightning-quick little left-hander already has the first leg on his projected grand slam, an achievement made only by the great Budge (1938), through his recent victory in the Australian Nationals. He will be strongly favored to repeat at Wimbledon and also add the U.S. crown at Forest Hills and the French at Paris.

Laver made his debut in the National Indoor Tournament Wednesday night at the 7th Regiment Armory, breezing past Alan Fischl of New York 6-4, 6-3 in first round play.

Whitney Reed, the top-ranking U.S. player, and Davis Cuppers Chuck McKinley and Donald Dell, also scored straight set victories in their first round matches of the indoor tourney.

Reed, of Alameda, Calif., took Karl Hedrick, Freeport, N.Y., 6-4, 6-4. McKinley, of St. Louis, trounced John Mangan, Larchmont, N.Y., 6-1 6-4, and Dell, Bethesda, Md., beat Don Rubell of Brooklyn 6-4, 6-4.

Uelses Eyes Higher Mark On Saturday

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — John Uelses, a slender, soft-spoken Marine corporal whose slight accent betrays his German birth, appears to have mustered a new technique that may send pole vaulters soaring toward the 17 foot mark.

Uelses, 24, became the first man ever to top 16 feet last weekend, sailing over that height twice. His best mark was 16 feet ¾ inch, at Boston Saturday.

He predicted Wednesday he will go even higher this weekend in indoor meets at Philadelphia and Los Angeles, possibly to 16 feet, 2 inches. By midsummer, Uelses said, he plans to be close to 16 feet, 6 inches.

But if his record-shattering leaps have made Uelses the best known pole vaulter in the world, his fiber glass pole has made him the most controversial.

Olympic champ Don Bragg and other critics say the extra snap in the fiber glass pole makes vaulting "an acrobatic stunt."

And a spokesman for the International Amateur Athletic Federation in London said: It seems to me it would be most unfair to rob an existing record-holder of his mark by using a pole that catapults you an extra three or four inches into the air."

In a special news conference, Uelses noted that anybody who wanted to could use a fiber glass pole and they were not new.

"It took us a long time to learn how to use them," he said. "They've been around since 1952."

Uelses said he didn't trust the fiber glass poles himself when he began using them last April and trusted them even less after one broke.

Fiber glass poles, he said, snap back faster than steel poles used by most vaulters and "if your reactions are slow you can't use them."

EL Invades Toronto Friday

Coach Jim Harris expects to stick with the same lineup, which started in two defeats last week, when the Potters travel to neighboring Toronto Friday night.

In naming his starting five of Jack Deshler, Huck Steffen, Roger Linville, Dean Cline and Frank McComas, Harris pointed out that junior Tom Kraft, the 5-foot-7 sparkplug who scored 16 points against Youngstown East last Saturday would be used as a "utility man" on both the varsity and reserve teams.

Harris means that Kraft will be used with either team when he or reserve Coach Frank Chan thinks the squad needs a lift. Kraft broke into the Potter lineup in the second quarter of the East game Saturday and almost sparked the Potters to victory before the Blue and White bowed, 47-46.

East Liverpool take a 5-7 record to Toronto Friday night where the reserve contest gets underway at 7 p. m. and the varsity tilt at 8:30.

The Potters will attempt to shake a two-game losing streak after dropping successive contests to Salem and Youngstown East.

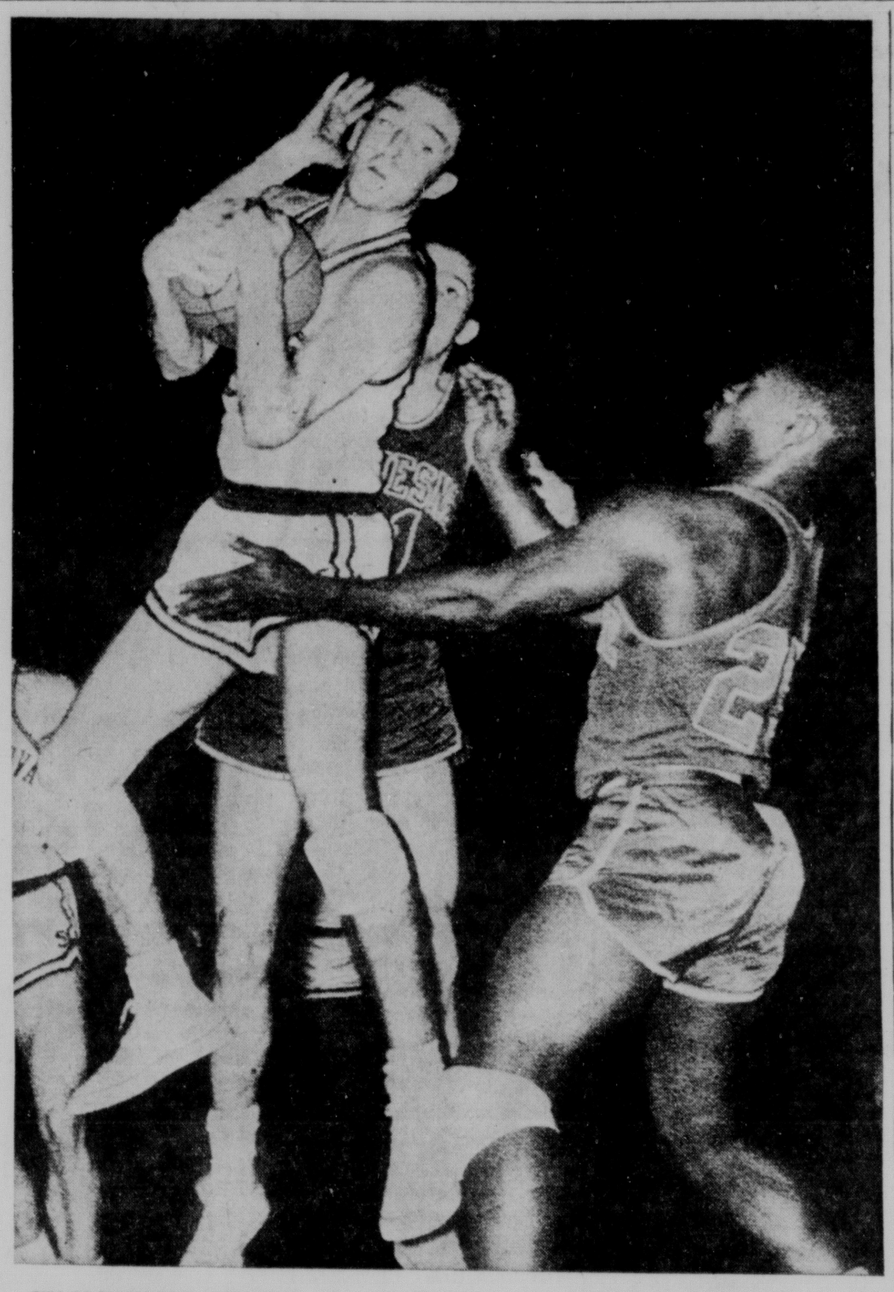

Toronto's big threat is 5-foot-9 Tom (Chipper) Coulter, a red-headed sophomore guard who broke into the starting lineup last year as a freshman.

He enjoyed the best night of his young career last Tuesday when he poured in 34 points against Follansbee in sparking the Red Knights to a 59-58 win. Coulter is rated a better than average outside shot.

Rounding out Coach Paul Kalivoda's starting lineup are Fred Sciance, 6-foot, Bob Carnahan, 5-foot-9, Lee Graubner, 6-foot-1, and Tom Pelliore, 5-foot-9.

Toronto has broken even in 12 games so far this season and statistics show that opponents have outscored the Red Knights, 661-616.

After the battle with Toronto Friday, the Potters return home for an engagement with Canton Central Saturday night at Memorial Auditorium.

Giants Have Troubles With Court, Cepeda

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The troubles of the San Francisco Giants range from coast to coast and a little farther.

At home, attorney Melvin Belli obtained a court writ Wednesday laying claim to Willie Mays unless the Giants pay a judgment of $1,880.96. Later the Giants posted a $3,760 bond and won a stay of execution pending appeal.

In Puerto Rico, Orlando Cepeda, who out-hit Mays for the Giants last year, still isn't satisfied with contract terms. Since Willie signed recently for a reported $90,000, Orlando supposedly looks for something in the $50,000 neighborhood or nearly twice what he received a year ago.

Belli won his court judgment on Jan. 23 from a Municipal Court jury which ordered the baseball club to repay him for a 1960 season box in Candlestick Park. Belli charged the place had proved too chilly for him to use because an advertised radiant heating system failed to work.

Belli asked a writ of execution because the club's attorneys had failed to file a motion for a new trial before the legal deadline.

Listed at the top of properties which Belli listed for attachment was: "Located at 3444 Spruce St., San Francisco, Willie Mays, a prime asset of the San Francisco Giants."

Cepeda, who led the National League in homers with 46 last season and also in runs-batted-in with 142, received an estimated $27,500 for his 1962 endeavors.

He was offered a raise of about 33 1-3 per cent and sent back the contract.

The Pistons knocked off the Royals 113-107 in Detroit Wednesday night in the only NBA game scheduled. It was Detroit's second victory in as many nights over fading Cincinnati.

Nicklaus Seen About Ready To Win Big $

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The thought that young Jack Nicklaus might be ready to slice off some big chunks of prize money haunted seasoned visitors to golf's pay window today as they started after the Phoenix Open's $35,000 pot.

Nicklaus, 1961 National Amateur and intercollegiate champion from Ohio State, gave the golf tour elders a sharp warning Wednesday when he knocked seven strokes off par with a 64 in the pro-am prelude to the 72-hole main event.

This gave him a tie with veteran Lionel Hebert for low pro honors. He would have been all by himself but for missed four-foot putts on the 8th and 18th holes.

The husky blond youngster has had moderate success in his first five tournaments as a professional, collecting a total of $1,250, but has yet to endorse one of the really big checks.

The tournament is being played over the 6,756-yard, par 36-35—71 Phoenix Country Club Course.

Toledo, Ohio U. Given New Hope In M-A Race

By The Associated Press

There may be a race yet in the Mid-American Conference.

Toledo smacked down Bowling Green 70-59 Wednesday night, and now both the Rockets and Ohio University's Bobcats sniff chances to catch up with the nation's eighth ranked basketball team.

Bowling Green's first MAC loss and second in 17 games over-all took the limelight. But Ohio U.'s 87-73 conquest of a good Morehead (Ky.) club and Xavier's 72-71 upset of Dayton earned co-feature billing on the night's 12-game Ohio college card.

In the Ohio Conference, challengers Wittenberg and Akron won, but so did league - leading Ohio Wesleyan. OWU's O.C. mark is 12-1. Wittenberg's 9-2 and Akron's 9-3 in the wake of the Bishops beating Denison 76-56, the Tigers taming Heidelberg 51-31 and the Zippers clipping Capital 59-47.

Other results Wednesday night: Defiance 91, Cedarville 83 in the Mid-Ohio League; Ohio Northern 106, Hillsdale (Mich.) 100 in a double-overtime; Steubenville over Geneva (Pa.) 65-57, Alliance (Pa.) over Youngstown 80-63, John Carroll over Washington & Jefferson 78-57, and Sue Bennett (Ky.) over Rio Grande 95-78.

Bowling Green (7-1) may have missed Wavey Junior, the regular declared ineligible this week. The Falcons were behind virtually all the way on Toledo's court and trailed 39-26 at the midway point. Toledo's Larry Jones led the scoring with 26 points while Butch Komives got 24 for B-G.

Toledo, which might be cloud-high by now if it could play all its games at home, moved into a second place tie in the MAC with Ohio U. at 4-2.

Ohio U. showed good form—between foul calls — in whipping Morehead at Athens. The Kentuckians have lost only 4 of 15 starts, and the Bobcats have dealt them two of those losses. Guards Dave Katz and Bill Whaley sparkled for the 'Cats in the game infested by 54 personals. They not only led the scoring with 19 and 15 points, respectively, but teamed to limit Morehead's Granny Williams to 12.

Uelses Eyes Higher Mark On Saturday

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — John Uelses, a slender, soft-spoken Marine corporal whose slight accent betrays his German birth, appears to have mustered a new technique that may send pole vaulters soaring toward the 17 foot mark.

Uelses, 24, became the first man ever to top 16 feet last weekend, sailing over that height twice. His best mark was 16 feet ¾ inch, at Boston Saturday.

He predicted Wednesday he will go even higher this weekend in indoor meets at Philadelphia and Los Angeles, possibly to 16 feet, 2 inches. By midsummer, Uelses said, he plans to be close to 16 feet, 6 inches.

But if his record-shattering leaps have made Uelses the best known pole vaulter in the world, his fiber glass pole has made him the most controversial.

Olympic champ Don Bragg and other critics say the extra snap in the fiber glass pole makes vaulting "an acrobatic stunt."

And a spokesman for the International Amateur Athletic Federation in London said: It seems to me it would be most unfair to rob an existing record-holder of his mark by using a pole that catapults you an extra three or four inches into the air."

In a special news conference, Uelses noted that anybody who wanted to could use a fiber glass pole and they were not new.

"It took us a long time to learn how to use them," he said. "They've been around since 1952."

Uelses said he didn't trust the fiber glass poles himself when he began using them last April and trusted them even less after one broke.

Fiber glass poles, he said, snap back faster than steel poles used by most vaulters and "if your reactions are slow you can't use them."

Giants Have Troubles With Court, Cepeda

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The troubles of the San Francisco Giants range from coast to coast and a little farther.

At home, attorney Melvin Belli obtained a court writ Wednesday laying claim to Willie Mays unless the Giants pay a judgment of $1,880.96. Later the Giants posted a $3,760 bond and won a stay of execution pending appeal.

In Puerto Rico, Orlando Cepeda, who out-hit Mays for the Giants last year, still isn't satisfied with contract terms. Since Willie signed recently for a reported $90,000, Orlando supposedly looks for something in the $50,000 neighborhood or nearly twice what he received a year ago.

Belli won his court judgment on Jan. 23 from a Municipal Court jury which ordered the baseball club to repay him for a 1960 season box in Candlestick Park. Belli charged the place had proved too chilly for him to use because an advertised radiant heating system failed to work.

Belli asked a writ of execution because the club's attorneys had failed to file a motion for a new trial before the legal deadline.

Listed at the top of properties which Belli listed for attachment was: "Located at 3444 Spruce St., San Francisco, Willie Mays, a prime asset of the San Francisco Giants."

Cepeda, who led the National League in homers with 46 last season and also in runs-batted-in with 142, received an estimated $27,500 for his 1962 endeavors.

He was offered a raise of about 33 1-3 per cent and sent back the contract.

Cage Scandal Kingpin Due Sentencing Friday

NEW YORK (AP) — With another figure in the 1961 basketball scandals admitting complicity with a guilty plea, the court spotlight next focuses on the man termed the master fixer.

He is 28-year-old Aaron Wagman of New York, called the key man in the point-shaving scandals that have involved 37 players from 22 colleges. Wagman pleaded guilty last Nov. 30 to 38 counts of bribery and conspiracy and is due to be sentenced Friday in General Sessions Court. His possible penalty—370 years and up to $370,000 in fines.

Wednesday another New Yorker, Joseph Hacken, entered a guilty plea to two counts of bribing college players to juggle points. Hacken was arrested with Wagman last March 17 at the outset of the scandal disclosures and indicted two months later on 17 counts of bribery and one of conspiracy.

Judge Joseph A. Serafite continued Hacken free in $25,000 bail and set March 14 for sentencing. He faces a maximum of 10 years on each count.

Hacken pleaded guilty to offering $1,500 to Ray Paprocky of New York University to shave points in a game with Utah State Dec. 3, 1960, in a fix that didn't come off, and of paying $1,000 to Hank Gunter of Seton Hall for shaving points against Holy Cross on Feb. 12, 1961.

Detroit, New York Play 2-2 Hockey Tie

By The Associated Press

The head-on clash of New York and Detroit for the last National Hockey League playoff spot was advertised as a "four point" game, but it turned out to be a one-pointer.

The two teams skated to a 2-2 tie in New York Wednesday night that left their positions in the standings unchanged, the fourth-place Rangers holding a one-point lead over the Red Wings.

Boston and Toronto also tied 2-2 in a mild game at Toronto that produced only one penalty, late in the final period.

The two games followed much the same pattern. Toronto came from behind twice to tie the Bruins, and New York came from behind twice to tie the Red Wings.

Lost 6 Players In Expansion

Hutchinson Claims Cincy Good Enough To Repeat

By FRED HUTCHINSON

BRADENTON BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Reds are a young ball club and we definitely are not complacent. We will enter the 1962 season optimistically ... confident but not overconfident.

We were the champs last year and we feel we have a good enough club to win it again but we didn't want to rest on our laurels. We have made changes and think that most of them will help us.

We lost six players in the National League expansion and it is always difficult to replace major league ball players.

We obtained pitchers Dave Hillman and Dave Sisler from the American League — Hillman from the Red Sox and Sisler from Washington. We also drafted Moe Drabowsky off the Louisville roster.

Joey Jay had a tremendous season for us, winning 21 games. Jim O'Toole came along fine and won 19 and Bob Purkey 16. Jim Brosnan and Bill Henry gave us as fine a 1-2 relief duo as any club in baseball.

The experienced hurlers we added and the year's experience in the majors that Ken Hunt and Jim Maloney acquired should add up to giving us even better hurling in '62. If Hunt and Hurley can improve in one year to the next as O'Toole did last year, and one or two kids come through, our pitching could be among the best in the league.

Catcher Johnny Edwards, as his fine World Series record indicated, improved continually last year. Other catchers are Darrell Johnson, Jesse Gonder, Jerry Zimmerman and Don Pavletich. The latter is a husky youngster from Indianapolis who batted .295 in the American Association with 22 home runs.

Our outfield should be strong again. Frank Robinson was the league's most valuable player and also led the league in slugging. Vada Pinson was second in batting and led in base hits. I don't feel he has reached his peak yet. We also have Wally Post, Jerry Lynch and Marty Keough. Lynch is as fine a pinch hitter as I've seen. Keough, whom we obtained from Washington, will take the place of Gus Bell, whom we lost in the draft.

Our infield figures to be better. Gordon Coleman had a good year but will improve with experience. Gene Freese, Eddie Kasko and Leo Cardenas also had excellent seasons and they, too, should be even better in '62.

As we said last year, we are looking forward to the pennant race with optimism. We had a team in 1961 with a lot of spirit and desire and, contrary to what some people have said, the players believe they can do it again in '62.

Music Group Plans Meal For Festival

Further plans for serving students at the Columbiana County Music Festival Feb. 23 at Beaver Local High School were made at a meeting of the Beaver Local Music Parents Association Wednesday night. About 25 attended.

Mrs. Rudy Hoffman, Mrs. Ralph Apple and Mrs. Herb Thompson were appointed to the serving committee, which is headed by Mrs. Paul Dailey, president, and Mrs. Arthur Plate.

The committee will serve a light lunch Feb. 17 for students at the rehearsal and a meal the day of the concert.

Plans were also aired for the annual spring concert by the band and chorus and for the annual spring formal dance. Mrs. Irene Mast was appointed refreshments chairman for the dance.

A membership of 280 was reported.

Next meeting is March 7 when a color film on organization of a music parent group will be screened. Student musicians in area ensemble contests will also attend.

Rail Crossing Gate Hit By Towed Truck

A gate at the Broadway railroad crossing was knocked down Wednesday when struck by a tractor - trailer in tow of another vehicle, the debris from the first mishap resulted in a second—it was struck by the locomotive of a westbound freight, police reported.

Police said gate assembly and foundation and a sign warning of the rail crossing were damaged when hit by a 1948 model tractor - trailer steered by Cecil E. Daugherty, 37, of Chester R. D. 1. The trucker told police his rig was being towed by another vehicle because of mechanical trouble.

Shortly after the first mishap, the crossing watchman tried to flag down an approaching westbound freight. H. L. Walton of Columbus, the engineer, said he saw the flagman's signal and applied his emergency brakes, but was unable to halt in time to avoid striking the crossing gate, which had been hurled onto the tracks.

The impact broke the windshield in the locomotive, but no one was hurt, officers said.

Daugherty was operating a rig owned by the Spahr Motor Trucking Co. of Canton, police said. He said his rig was towed east on E. 2nd St., then both vehicles turned right to cross the tracks.

Daugherty told police he cut his rig too sharply on the turn, causing it to strike the crossing gate and sign. However, there was no damage to the tractor - trailer, police said. The mishap was timed at 11:15 a.m.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Children Who Wet The Bed Need Love

During the last year or so I have received an increased number of letters by parents about the child, usually a boy from five to 12, who wets or soils his clothes by day. Some elementary school principals also are concerned about the problem they call "smelly children". They note that other children tend to avoid them. A few principals see this problem related to the increasing number of children whose mothers leave for work before the children leave for school, and the children prepare themselves alone for school.

Dr. Garry Meyers

YET MOST OF the letters from parents have been from those homes. They represent seemingly refined and cultivated homes. Obviously, the problem is a great worry and embarrassment to any mother. Her very emotional response often may be the chief barrier to finding a solution.

As with late bedwetting children, it often appears that the boy in question always is continent while on camping or fishing trips with his father or some other admired adult.

Here is a clue for helping most of these children: Encourage closer companionship with the father, and wider interests and activities with other boys the same age. The child also needs to be protected from shame and from ridicule by younger brothers and sisters.

He needs to be built up as a worthy person and member of the family. Often neighbors and relatives can be enlisted for such help.

MOREOVER, THIS child needs to be trained to go to the toilet at regular times according to a posted schedule. He should not be punished for accidents, but only for failing to follow this schedule.

Furthermore, this child will profit from being required to take a bath daily, not for punishment, but to impress on him the idea of cleanliness. This will help teach high standards of personal neatness and grooming.

My bulletins, "Psychology Applied to Bed - Wetting," "Fathers Are Parents, Too," and "Educating Your Child in Responsibility," may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

The two commissioners said other statements in the release issued by George Farrell of Campground Rd., chairman of the Board of Visitors, were "false," and they wanted them corrected at a public meeting.

The meeting with the Board of Visitors and any other interested citizens will be held at 2 p. m.

The statement released Monday by the visiting group declared the board had sought in December to have a meeting with the commissioners but had received no acknowledgment. The resolution concerning recommendations for the home had been presented to the commissioners last week and were released to newspapers.

The board's statement urged examination of the need for one employe for every four residents of the home, improved record keeping at the home, separation of the farm and home operations and other changes.

Woman Arrested

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police in suburban Valley View have arrested Mrs. Willow D. Rodes, 25, on a charge of helping her husband escape from Valley View jail. Rodes, 30, was being held for questioning in connection with a burglary at Independence when he escaped Feb. 1.

Senate

ator of the Ideal Chevrolet Co. at Wellsville, and Boyd Wallace of Cadiz R. D. 4, a farmer.

The Republican seeking Rep. Hays' seat also is unopposed. He is John J. Carrigg, professor of history at the College of Steubenville.

In the current term, the 20th-22nd District has two state senators — a result of periodic reapportionment that comes about once in 10 years. Sen. Blake is rounding out a four-year term. Sen. Sargus was elected to a two-year term — taking the extra seat that resulted from the reapportionment.

The congressional district is comprised of Columbiana, Jefferson, Carroll, Harrison and Belmont Counties. The senatorial district covers the same counties, less Carroll.

Under state law, the candidates file in Columbiana County because it is the "most populous" in the districts.

From the standpoint of professional politicians, the biggest surprise in last-minute filings came when two more entered for Democratic State Central Committeeman to oppose Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, the incumbent.

The 11th-hour candidates were John Taylor of Salem, operator of a printing concern and a former state senator, and John W. Targoss of Steubenville.

The field totals four, as Mele M. Vukelic of Steubenville filed earlier.

Gosney also is Columbiana County Democratic chairman and a member of the Election Board.

Vukelic, an attorney, is on the staff of the Jefferson County prosecuting attorney. He was defeated for probate judge in the 1960 election.

An insurance agent, Targoss was a Democratic candidate for Steubenville mayor but was defeated in the party primary.

Both parties name men and women members of their state central committees in the congressional district. The candidates are elected — not nominated — at the primaries.

Republicans have a three-way race for their state committeeman's post. The candidates are: Robert M. Bell of Steubenville, seeking his second term, and Harold Meyers of Barnesville and Robert Starks of St. Clairsville.

The women members of the state committee are unopposed for re-election. They are Mrs. Letha C. Astry of Salem, the Republican, and Miss Esther F. Pinsky of Bellaire, the Democrat.

2 Men Get Jail Terms In Intoxication Cases

Two East Liverpool men were remanded to the County Jail in default of fines of $100 and costs each imposed today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when they pleaded guilty to intoxication charges filed under state law.

They were identified as Nelson Barcus, arrested at 10:18 p.m. Wednesday in the Bus Terminal, and Harold Amos, cited at 5:03 p. m. yesterday on Jackson St. "Laying out" the fine and costs is equivalent to a term of about 35 days.

Midland NAACP To Spur Voting

The Midland branch of the NAACP Wednesday evening appointed a committee to head a voters registration campaign on a non-partisan basis for the May 15 primary.

Will T. Leavell, president, said, "We feel the indifference of our people to use the ballot correctly is the cause of much of our plight."

The committee includes John Perkins Jr., Mrs. Eleanor Smith and Bryant (Jack) Perkins.

Plans were made for a "kick-off" Sunday, Feb. 25, at 3 p. m. at the First Baptist Church for the branch's membership drive. Headlining the program will be Calvin Banks of New York City, program director for the national NAACP. Mrs. Mary Wilson and Mrs. Dorothy James will be co-chairmen.

The annual dinner will be held Saturday, May 26, at Deramo's Restaurant with Atty. Leon Higginbotham, president of the Philadelphia branch of the NAACP, speaker. Mrs. Aaron Golding will be chairman. A picnic will be held June 10 with Bryant (Jack) Perkins in charge.

Next meeting will be March 7 in the Steelworkers Hall.

Myron Weis is program chairman. Four new directors, elected by ballots mailed the membership, will be announced at the dinner.

The candidates are Richard Brown, Paul Miller, Harold Sneddon, Myron Weis and Paul Bloor.

The board convenes within 10 days following the annual meeting to elect officers.

Radio Director Talks To High School Class

Art Schreiber, news director of radio station KYW in Cleveland, was guest speaker for the fifth period Speech - Arts Class of East Liverpool High School Tuesday afternoon.

A 1945 graduate of the school, he told of career opportunities in radio and television and conducted a question-and-answer period on the operation of a television station.

Keith Langdon, teacher, said he plans to obtain more such lectures to give the students an opportunity to hear public speakers in an informal atmosphere.

Commissioner Frank C. Wilson and Auditor Kenneth Bell, both of Wellsville and each seeking a second term.

The Democrats' unopposed candidate for state representative is Atty. Lawrence W. Stacey of Columbiana.

No last - minute "dark horses" entered for the county races. When the deadline passed, the slates of both parties stood as they had at mid-morning yesterday.

Most of the candidates had filed well in advance of the deadline, some as early as December.

The Election Board also listed a total of 311 candidates for party central committee posts — the so-called "precinct committeemen."

The parties name a central committeeman from each of the 165 precincts. However, the Republican ticket is incomplete. The slates show a total of 181 Democrats and 130 Republicans seeking the posts.

The central committeemen are elected, as distinguished from a nomination, at the primaries.

The Election Board has set a meeting for next Tuesday at 2 p. m. to pass on the "sufficiency" of the candidates' petitions and the special questions and issues which were filed for ballot places. It will determine if they meet the legal requirements for listing on the ballot.

At the same time, the board expects to award contracts for ballots and poll books for the primaries.

mills, also for operating expenses; East Palestine School District, a new 5-mill current expense levy, and United Local School District, a $298,000 bond issue to erect a new elementary school close to the present high school near Hanoverton and make improvements on the existing structure.

United Local rejected a $259,000 building bond issue in November.

A second Salem proposition was filed previously. The school district seeks a proposed 8.5-mill operating levy. It represents renewal of two existing levies, one of 4 mills and one of 4.5 mills, for current expenses. It would run five years.

City Hospital where, as the officer approached Foster's car, the railroad worker placed a small .22-caliber pistol to his right temple and pulled the trigger.

Patrolman Reed said Foster told him he had shot the woman with whom he had been living.

Foster, who was employed by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad at Campbell near Youngstown, had visited his father at Canonsburg with the girl earlier this week. The father said the girl was his son's common-law wife.

Officers reported that Foster had at one time been married to the girl's sister.

The child, who was unharmed, was placed in the custody of the County Welfare Department.

Dr. William Koloszi, Columbiana County coroner, ruled the two deaths murder and suicide following an autopsy upon the girl's body this morning.

Dr. Koloszi said she had been shot twice in the head and twice in the chest, a bullet through the heart apparently killing her.

Meet Your Friends at.... THE BEAUTIFUL NEW

Lost 6 Players In Expansion

Hutchinson Claims Cincy Good Enough To Repeat

By FRED HUTCHINSON

BRADENTON BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Reds are a young ball club and we definitely are not complacent. We will enter the 1962 season optimistically ... confident but not overconfident.

We were the champs last year and we feel we have a good enough club to win it again but we didn't want to rest on our laurels. We have made changes and think that most of them will help us.

We lost six players in the National League expansion and it is always difficult to replace major league ball players.

We obtained pitchers Dave Hillman and Dave Sisler from the American League — Hillman from the Red Sox and Sisler from Washington. We also drafted Moe Drabowsky off the Louisville roster.

Joey Jay had a tremendous season for us, winning 21 games. Jim O'Toole came along fine and won 19 and Bob Purkey 16. Jim Brosnan and Bill Henry gave us as fine a 1-2 relief duo as any club in baseball.

The experienced hurlers we added and the year's experience in the majors that Ken Hunt and Jim Maloney acquired should add up to giving us even better hurling in '62. If Hunt and Hurley can improve in one year to the next as O'Toole did last year, and one or two kids come through, our pitching could be among the best in the league.

Catcher Johnny Edwards, as his fine World Series record indicated, improved continually last year. Other catchers are Darrell Johnson, Jesse Gonder, Jerry Zimmerman and Don Pavletich. The latter is a husky youngster from Indianapolis who batted .295 in the American Association with 22 home runs.

Our outfield should be strong again. Frank Robinson was the league's most valuable player and also led the league in slugging. Vada Pinson was second in batting and led in base hits. I don't feel he has reached his peak yet. We also have Wally Post, Jerry Lynch and Marty Keough. Lynch is as fine a pinch hitter as I've seen. Keough, whom we obtained from Washington, will take the place of Gus Bell, whom we lost in the draft.

Our infield figures to be better. Gordon Coleman had a good year but will improve with experience. Gene Freese, Eddie Kasko and Leo Cardenas also had excellent seasons and they, too, should be even better in '62.

As we said last year, we are looking forward to the pennant race with optimism. We had a team in 1961 with a lot of spirit and desire and, contrary to what some people have said, the players believe they can do it again in '62.

Woman Arrested

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police in suburban Valley View have arrested Mrs. Willow D. Rodes, 25, on a charge of helping her husband escape from Valley View jail. Rodes, 30, was being held for questioning in connection with a burglary at Independence when he escaped Feb. 1.

ator of the Ideal Chevrolet Co. at Wellsville, and Boyd Wallace of Cadiz R. D. 4, a farmer.

The Republican seeking Rep. Hays' seat also is unopposed. He is John J. Carrigg, professor of history at the College of Steubenville.

In the current term, the 20th-22nd District has two state senators — a result of periodic reapportionment that comes about once in 10 years. Sen. Blake is rounding out a four-year term. Sen. Sargus was elected to a two-year term — taking the extra seat that resulted from the reapportionment.

The congressional district is comprised of Columbiana, Jefferson, Carroll, Harrison and Belmont Counties. The senatorial district covers the same counties, less Carroll.

Under state law, the candidates file in Columbiana County because it is the "most populous" in the districts.

From the standpoint of professional politicians, the biggest surprise in last-minute filings came when two more entered for Democratic State Central Committeeman to oppose Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, the incumbent.

The 11th-hour candidates were John Taylor of Salem, operator of a printing concern and a former state senator, and John W. Targoss of Steubenville.

The field totals four, as Mele M. Vukelic of Steubenville filed earlier.

Gosney also is Columbiana County Democratic chairman and a member of the Election Board.

Vukelic, an attorney, is on the staff of the Jefferson County prosecuting attorney. He was defeated for probate judge in the 1960 election.

An insurance agent, Targoss was a Democratic candidate for Steubenville mayor but was defeated in the party primary.

Both parties name men and women members of their state central committees in the congressional district. The candidates are elected — not nominated — at the primaries.

Republicans have a three-way race for their state committeeman's post. The candidates are: Robert M. Bell of Steubenville, seeking his second term, and Harold Meyers of Barnesville and Robert Starks of St. Clairsville.

The women members of the state committee are unopposed for re-election. They are Mrs. Letha C. Astry of Salem, the Republican, and Miss Esther F. Pinsky of Bellaire, the Democrat.

2 Men Get Jail Terms In Intoxication Cases

Two East Liverpool men were remanded to the County Jail in default of fines of $100 and costs each imposed today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when they pleaded guilty to intoxication charges filed under state law.

They were identified as Nelson Barcus, arrested at 10:18 p.m. Wednesday in the Bus Terminal, and Harold Amos, cited at 5:03 p. m. yesterday on Jackson St. "Laying out" the fine and costs is equivalent to a term of about 35 days.

Music Group Plans Meal For Festival

Further plans for serving students at the Columbiana County Music Festival Feb. 23 at Beaver Local High School were made at a meeting of the Beaver Local Music Parents Association Wednesday night. About 25 attended.

Mrs. Rudy Hoffman, Mrs. Ralph Apple and Mrs. Herb Thompson were appointed to the serving committee, which is headed by Mrs. Paul Dailey, president, and Mrs. Arthur Plate.

The committee will serve a light lunch Feb. 17 for students at the rehearsal and a meal the day of the concert.

Plans were also aired for the annual spring concert by the band and chorus and for the annual spring formal dance. Mrs. Irene Mast was appointed refreshments chairman for the dance.

A membership of 280 was reported.

Next meeting is March 7 when a color film on organization of a music parent group will be screened. Student musicians in area ensemble contests will also attend.

Rail Crossing Gate Hit By Towed Truck

A gate at the Broadway railroad crossing was knocked down Wednesday when struck by a tractor - trailer in tow of another vehicle, the debris from the first mishap resulted in a second—it was struck by the locomotive of a westbound freight, police reported.

Police said gate assembly and foundation and a sign warning of the rail crossing were damaged when hit by a 1948 model tractor - trailer steered by Cecil E. Daugherty, 37, of Chester R. D. 1. The trucker told police his rig was being towed by another vehicle because of mechanical trouble.

Shortly after the first mishap, the crossing watchman tried to flag down an approaching westbound freight. H. L. Walton of Columbus, the engineer, said he saw the flagman's signal and applied his emergency brakes, but was unable to halt in time to avoid striking the crossing gate, which had been hurled onto the tracks.

The impact broke the windshield in the locomotive, but no one was hurt, officers said.

Daugherty was operating a rig owned by the Spahr Motor Trucking Co. of Canton, police said. He said his rig was towed east on E. 2nd St., then both vehicles turned right to cross the tracks.

Daugherty told police he cut his rig too sharply on the turn, causing it to strike the crossing gate and sign. However, there was no damage to the tractor - trailer, police said. The mishap was timed at 11:15 a.m.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Children Who Wet The Bed Need Love

During the last year or so I have received an increased number of letters by parents about the child, usually a boy from five to 12, who wets or soils his clothes by day. Some elementary school principals also are concerned about the problem they call "smelly children". They note that other children tend to avoid them. A few principals see this problem related to the increasing number of children whose mothers leave for work before the children leave for school, and the children prepare themselves alone for school.

Dr. Garry Meyers

YET MOST OF the letters from parents have been from those homes. They represent seemingly refined and cultivated homes. Obviously, the problem is a great worry and embarrassment to any mother. Her very emotional response often may be the chief barrier to finding a solution.

As with late bedwetting children, it often appears that the boy in question always is continent while on camping or fishing trips with his father or some other admired adult.

Here is a clue for helping most of these children. Encourage closer companionship with the father, and wider interests and activities with other boys the same age. The child also needs to be protected from shame and from ridicule by younger brothers and sisters.

He needs to be built up as a worthy person and member of the family. Often neighbors and relatives can be enlisted for such help.

MOREOVER, THIS child needs to be trained to go to the toilet at regular times according to a posted schedule. He should not be punished for accidents, but only for failing to follow this schedule.

Furthermore, this child will profit from being required to take a bath daily, not for punishment, but to impress on him the idea of cleanliness. This will help teach high standards of personal neatness and grooming.

My bulletins, "Psychology Applied to Bed - Wetting," "Fathers Are Parents, Too," and "Educating Your Child in Responsibility," may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Midland NAACP To Spur Voting

The Midland branch of the NAACP Wednesday evening appointed a committee to head a voters registration campaign on a non-partisan basis for the May 15 primary.

Will T. Leavell, president, said, "We feel the indifference of our people to use the ballot correctly is the cause of much of our plight."

The committee includes John Perkins Jr., Mrs. Eleanor Smith and Bryant (Jack) Perkins.

Plans were made for a "kick-off" Sunday, Feb. 25, at 3 p. m. at the First Baptist Church for the branch's membership drive. Headlining the program will be Calvin Banks of New York City, program director for the national NAACP. Mrs. Mary Wilson and Mrs. Dorothy James will be co-chairmen.

The annual dinner will be held Saturday, May 26, at Deramo's Restaurant with Atty. Leon Higginbotham, president of the Philadelphia branch of the NAACP, speaker. Mrs. Aaron Golding will be chairman. A picnic will be held June 10 with Bryant (Jack) Perkins in charge.

Next meeting will be March 7 in the Steelworkers Hall.

Chamber Dinner Set At Wellsville

The annual dinner of the Wellsville Chamber of Commerce will be held Wednesday, Feb. 28, at the Hotel Wilk.

Atty. William Bush, secretary, said R. J. Schill, executive manager of the Ellwood City (Pa.) Chamber of Commerce, will be guest speaker.

The dinner will be at 6:30 p. m. It was previously announced that the dinner would be either Feb. 14 or Feb. 21, but the speaker was not available for those dates.

Myron Weis is program chairman. Four new directors, elected by ballots mailed the membership, will be announced at the dinner.

The candidates are Richard Brown, Paul Miller, Harold Sneddon, Myron Weis and Paul Bloor.

The board convenes within 10 days following the annual meeting to elect officers.

Radio Director Talks To High School Class

Art Schreiber, news director of radio station KYW in Cleveland, was guest speaker for the fifth period Speech - Arts Class of East Liverpool High School Tuesday afternoon.

A 1945 graduate of the school, he told of career opportunities in radio and television and conducted a question-and-answer period on the operation of a television station.

Keith Langdon, teacher, said he plans to obtain more such lectures to give the students an opportunity to hear public speakers in an informal atmosphere.

Most of the candidates had filed well in advance of the deadline, some as early as December.

The Election Board also listed a total of 311 candidates for party central committee posts — the so-called "precinct committeemen."

The parties name a central committeeman from each of the 165 precincts. However, the Republican ticket is incomplete. The slates show a total of 181 Democrats and 130 Republicans seeking the posts.

The central committeemen are elected, as distinguished from a nomination, at the primaries.

The Election Board has set a meeting for next Tuesday at 2 p. m. to pass on the "sufficiency" of the candidates' petitions and the special questions and issues which were filed for ballot places. It will determine if they meet the legal requirements for listing on the ballot.

At the same time, the board expects to award contracts for ballots and poll books for the primaries.

mills, also for operating expenses; East Palestine School District, a new 5-mill current expense levy, and United Local School District, a $298,000 bond issue to erect a new elementary school close to the present high school near Hanoverton and make improvements on the existing structure.

United Local rejected a $259,000 building bond issue in November.

A second Salem proposition was filed previously. The school district seeks a proposed 8.5-mill operating levy. It represents renewal of two existing levies, one of 4 mills and one of 4.5 mills, for current expenses. It would run five years.

City Hospital where, as the officer approached Foster's car, the railroad worker placed a small .22-caliber pistol to his right temple and pulled the trigger.

Patrolman Reed said Foster told him he had shot the woman with whom he had been living.

Foster, who was employed by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad at Campbell near Youngstown, had visited his father at Canonsburg with the girl earlier this week. The father said the girl was his son's common-law wife.

Officers reported that Foster had at one time been married to the girl's sister.

The child, who was unharmed, was placed in the custody of the County Welfare Department.

Dr. William Koloszi, Columbiana County coroner, ruled the two deaths murder and suicide following an autopsy upon the girl's body this morning.

Dr. Koloszi said she had been shot twice in the head and twice in the chest, a bullet through the heart apparently killing her.

The two commissioners said other statements in the release issued by George Farrell of Campground Rd., chairman of the Board of Visitors, were "false," and they wanted them corrected at a public meeting.

The meeting with the Board of Visitors and any other interested citizens will be held at 2 p. m.

The statement released Monday by the visiting group declared the board had sought in December to have a meeting with the commissioners but had received no acknowledgment. The resolution concerning recommendations for the home had been presented to the commissioners last week and were released to newspapers.

The board's statement urged examination of the need for one employe for every four residents of the home, improved record keeping at the home, separation of the farm and home operations and other changes.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

Chicken Little Is Doing A Job

The television network chieftain by invitation, are enjoying the balmy climes of Washington, D.C., these days. While they are there, they are doing their darnedest to establish the following points:

Alan Gill

1. The federal communications commissioner, Newton F. Minow, with his frantic cry that the sky is falling, is really Chicken Little in disguise.
2. The sky is not falling.
3. Well, maybe it WAS falling just a little, but it's not falling any more.
4. It will stop falling soon.

WE SHOULD KNOW, the networks are saying, because aren't we the sky writers? And if anybody starts passing laws about sky writing, then that's sky censorship, isn't it? And who wants that?

Before we know it, Mr. Minow will be dictating what words can be written up there, or he'll be pushing the clouds around to hide our creative efforts.

So all right, they say, shrugging their shoulders. Since there's so much sky and so few sky writers, why not put up MORE sky writers? Fill the air with them, see if we care.

Mr. Minow, if I interpret him correctly, has but one major point. The sky, he says, is not quite like anything else. It belongs to everybody.

GETTING AWAY from this ethereal chatter, I think it's true to say that neither side in this Battle of the Wasteland expects his worst dreams to materalize.

Mr. Minow knows that television is something better than a junkpile and that it has improved and that it will continue to improve.

The network executives know that Mr. Minow, if he has a piece of legislation up his sleeve, has a truly mild bill up there. And it won't pass Congress anyhow.

THIS IS NOT to say the argument is futile. Newton Minow has scored his point. And it's evident in the kind of television we've been watching since he let fly that first blast of his.

The only garroting I've seen was self-administered by Joseph Mitchell, the city manager of Newburgh, N. Y., when NBC's "White Paper" took a look into Mr. Mitchell's celebrated welfare policies the other night.

The only mob swarming into my living room was the one outside the Hauptmann trial courthouse on "David Brinkley's Journal." And the only ghosts I've encountered recently were in evidence in that "CBS Reports" postmortem on the two Los Angeles newspapers that folded.

Most of the TV violence these days seems to be occurring on the public affairs programs. And that's good.

BETTER YET, the individual stations have been telling the networks, "Sure we want the 'White Papers' and the 'Eyewitnesses,' send 'em on."

With the cry of "wasteland" in their ears, they're cutting down on those re-runs of "I Love Lucy."

I can't say I blame the networks, either, when they holler censorship. The suggestion of federal program control, under the current circumstances, should be a call to arms.

What we're left with, then, is a phony war. Lots of sound and fury, but this time signifying something. The FCC, I think, is emerging with a renewed respect for its role as Dutch uncle (rather than stern taskmaster) to the industry.

MR. MINOW is realizing that a little criticism can do wonders and that the American television audience, which tuned in on "Mister Ed" and "Maverick" rather than to the FCC hearings, is discriminate.

The networks are giving us better stuff to look at. And all sides are agreeing that what we need is the opening up of all those ultra-high-frequency channels for a wider selection of TV fare.

Chicken Little is doing a job. And even the sky writers, privately, concede the point.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Kenneth Meyer, 39, of Dayton was killed Wednesday night in a traffic accident on Interstate 70 north of the city.

Intruders Hit Buckeye Club

Police today are continuing an investigation of a burglary discovered Wednesday at the Buckeye Club, 616 Dresden Ave., in which a $40 flower fund was stolen and the coin box of a music machine was rifled.

The flower fund was kept in a coffee can behind the bar, officers said. The intruder pried open the music machine to remove the coin box, officers said. The amount stolen from the music box was undetermined.

Officers said they were unable to determine how the intruders gained entry. George B. Collins, 837 Alton St. was listed as the club steward. The burglary took place sometime between 4:40 p.m. Tuesday and 9:45 a. m. yesterday, officers said.

Capt. Robert H. Pyle and Patrolman E. R. Furgason investigated.

Two cases of vandalism also were reported to police yesterday.

Thomas Renner, 320 Apple Alley, told police at 12:55 p.m. that the window in the left door of his auto and the radio antenna were broken while the vehicle was parked in Apple Alley between 6 p. m. Tuesday and noon yesterday.

Arb Motor Sales, 1340 Pennsylvania Ave., reported that a vandal firing a BB gun damaged the windshield of a 1957 auto on the used car lot and broke a neon sign. The vandalism took place between 6 p.m Saturday and 6 p.m. Monday, the company reported. Howard Arb is the owner.

Hancock Silage Wins First Place In State Contest

A silage sample submitted by W. C. Huff of State Route 2 near Pughtown won first place at the West Virginia State Hay and Silage Show at Morgantown.

Oliver Johnson, Hancock County agricultural agent, said Huff's entry was a sample mixture of soy beans and corn.

Huff will receive a plaque from the State Department of Agriculture and a blue ribbon from the Monongahela Power Co. He attended the show last week.

Meanwhile, the County Conservation Committee has approved a $90 scholarship for a county teacher. The recipient, to be named by Supt. Robert H. Hall, will be eligible to attend a teachers' educational workshop in conservation July 23-Aug. 10 at West Virginia University. Miss Betty Buben of Chester attended last year.

The committee is launching plans for the annual Youth Conservation Camp, tentatively scheduled in early June at Tomlinson Run State Park. George Breiding, naturalist of Oglebay Park in Wheeling, will present a program on bird identification.

Clarence Deeds of Newell is chairman. Next meeting is March 6 in Johnson's office in New Cumberland.

WE SHOULD KNOW, the networks are saying, because aren't we the sky writers? And if anybody starts passing laws about sky writing, then that's sky censorship, isn't it? And who wants that?

Before we know it, Mr. Minow will be dictating what words can be written up there, or he'll be pushing the clouds around to hide our creative efforts.

So all right, they say, shrugging their shoulders. Since there's so much sky and so few sky writers, why not put up MORE sky writers? Fill the air with them, see if we care.

Mr. Minow, if I interpret him correctly, has but one major point. The sky, he says, is not quite like anything else. It belongs to everybody.

GETTING AWAY from this ethereal chatter, I think it's true to say that neither side in this Battle of the Wasteland expects his worst dreams to materalize.

Mr. Minow knows that television is something better than a junkpile and that it has improved and that it will continue to improve.

The network executives know that Mr. Minow, if he has a piece of legislation up his sleeve, has a truly mild bill up there. And it won't pass Congress anyhow.

THIS IS NOT to say the argument is futile. Newton Minow has scored his point. And it's evident in the kind of television we've been watching since he let fly that first blast of his.

The only garroting I've seen was self-administered by Joseph Mitchell, the city manager of Newburgh, N. Y., when NBC's "White Paper" took a look into Mr. Mitchell's celebrated welfare policies the other night.

The only mob swarming into my living room was the one outside the Hauptmann trial courthouse on "David Brinkley's Journal." And the only ghosts I've encountered recently were in evidence in that "CBS Reports" postmortem on the two Los Angeles newspapers that folded.

Most of the TV violence these days seems to be occurring on the public affairs programs. And that's good.

BETTER YET, the individual stations have been telling the networks, "Sure we want the 'White Papers' and the 'Eyewitnesses,' send 'em on."

With the cry of "wasteland" in their ears, they're cutting down on those re-runs of "I Love Lucy."

I can't say I blame the networks, either, when they holler censorship. The suggestion of federal program control, under the current circumstances, should be a call to arms.

What we're left with, then, is a phony war. Lots of sound and fury, but this time signifying something. The FCC, I think, is emerging with a renewed respect for its role as Dutch uncle (rather than stern taskmaster) to the industry.

MR. MINOW is realizing that a little criticism can do wonders and that the American television audience, which tuned in on "Mister Ed" and "Maverick" rather than to the FCC hearings, is discriminate.

The networks are giving us better stuff to look at. And all sides are agreeing that what we need is the opening up of all those ultra-high-frequency channels for a wider selection of TV fare.

Chicken Little is doing a job. And even the sky writers, privately, concede the point.

Intruders Hit Buckeye Club

Police today are continuing an investigation of a burglary discovered Wednesday at the Buckeye Club, 616 Dresden Ave., in which a $40 flower fund was stolen and the coin box of a music machine was rifled.

The flower fund was kept in a coffee can behind the bar, officers said. The intruder pried open the music machine to remove the coin box, officers said. The amount stolen from the music box was undetermined.

Officers said they were unable to determine how the intruders gained entry. George B. Collins, 837 Alton St. was listed as the club steward. The burglary took place sometime between 4:40 p.m. Tuesday and 9:45 a. m. yesterday, officers said.

Capt. Robert H. Pyle and Patrolman E. R. Furgason investigated.

Two cases of vandalism also were reported to police yesterday.

Thomas Renner, 320 Apple Alley, told police at 12:55 p.m. that the window in the left door of his auto and the radio antenna were broken while the vehicle was parked in Apple Alley between 6 p. m. Tuesday and noon yesterday.

Arb Motor Sales, 1340 Pennsylvania Ave., reported that a vandal firing a BB gun damaged the windshield of a 1957 auto on the used car lot and broke a neon sign. The vandalism took place between 6 p.m Saturday and 6 p.m. Monday, the company reported. Howard Arb is the owner.

Hancock Silage Wins First Place In State Contest

A silage sample submitted by W. C. Huff of State Route 2 near Pughtown won first place at the West Virginia State Hay and Silage Show at Morgantown.

Oliver Johnson, Hancock County agricultural agent, said Huff's entry was a sample mixture of soy beans and corn.

Huff will receive a plaque from the State Department of Agriculture and a blue ribbon from the Monongahela Power Co. He attended the show last week.

Meanwhile, the County Conservation Committee has approved a $90 scholarship for a county teacher. The recipient, to be named by Supt. Robert H. Hall, will be eligible to attend a teachers' educational workshop in conservation July 23-Aug. 10 at West Virginia University. Miss Betty Buben of Chester attended last year.

The committee is launching plans for the annual Youth Conservation Camp, tentatively scheduled in early June at Tomlinson Run State Park. George Breiding, naturalist of Oglebay Park in Wheeling, will present a program on bird identification.

Clarence Deeds of Newell is chairman. Next meeting is March 6 in Johnson's office in New Cumberland.

Satellite Launching Is Postponed Again

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Technical troubles with the Thor-Delta booster rocket forced a second straight postponement of the Tiros IV weather satellite today.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced the postponement after the countdown had progressed at one time to within two minutes of launching.

It was not learned if the troubles were the same that caused the shot to be put off Tuesday. No new launching date was set immediately.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our son is 11 years old and I just returned from a conference with his seventh-grade teacher.

All my life I've had conferences with his teachers. Every one of his teachers has told me that the boy has not been trained to concentrate, that he daydreams and that we have failed to teach him the meaning of responsibility.

I'm beginning to think we haven't taught him anything. My husband and I apparently made every mistake in the book with this child.

Often I've wished there was a school for parents. So many of us need to know how to bring up our children. I feel like a failure and I don't know what to do about it. Many people have told me we've spoiled our boy, yet nobody tells me what we should do about it. Can you?—D.P.T.

Dear D.P.T.: There's hope for you, Mother. At least you aren't blaming the teachers.

Parents who feel inadequate should get outside help. There are child guidance clinics, specialists who deal with problem children and a great deal of useful literature.

The school principal can direct you in each of these areas. By all means ask! Don't allow your unmotivated, day-dreaming son to shift aimlessly from bad to worse. And take heart—the admission of ignorance is the first step toward wisdom.

Captivated Audience

Dear Ann: A friend of mine told me that you were once in jail. He said he saw you there. Is this true or false? Please answer in the paper. Your readers are entitled to know.—CORKY.

Dear Corky: Your friend is right. I was in jail in February 1959. I spoke to the inmates of the Cook County Jail and am delighted to report it was one of the most attentive audiences I've ever had. Not a soul walked out.

Contented Divorcee

Dear Ann: That letter from Mrs. H.'s friend burns my eyeballs. She said (and I quote), "He wanted a divorce so I made him pay through the nose."

America is the only place in the world where females get away with this sort of armed robbery. If a woman tied her victim with ropes, put a gun to his head and made him sign over all his wordly goods, she'd be put in prison in most countries. Not in America. Here they call it "settlement and alimony."

My husband and I realized after three years of marriage that it was a mistake. We had two small children. I could have put him through the financial meat grinder because he wanted out more than I did (another woman). But I'm not the grabby, vindictive type.

I had a small income from my father's estate and a good job. I knew I could manage with no settlement and modest support check. We parted without bitterness. He still tells our children that I'm the finest, most highly principled woman he ever met. And that's worth a great deal to me.—SATISFIED.

Confidentially

TO TO BE OR NOT TO BE:

Look, Hamlet, the loot is the big attraction and you know it. It's much cheaper to borrow from the bank. Don't marry this woman.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Lisbon Group Attends Tea

Mrs. Robert Carter of Summitville, president of the Columbiana County Deanery of the National Council of Catholic Women, with Mrs. Mae McLaughlin, Mrs. John Drovolic and Mrs. John Novak of Lisbon, attended the tea and luncheon Tuesday at St.Colomba Cathedral in Youngstown for an inter-faith meeting.

They also participated in a special legislative meeting with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Paul O'Connor as moderator.

Some 1,500 women of all faiths were welcomed by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Glennwaw Holdbrook.

Fr. Thomas Murphy introduced the most Rev. James W. Malone, auxiliary bishop of the Youngstown Diocese, who spoke on "New Horizons of Understanding."

Cathedral symbols were explained by Fr. James R. Kolp, spiritual director of Cardinal Mooney High School.

Mrs. Raymond J. Sturgeon, president of the Mahoning Diocese NCCW presided at the tea.

Vandals Warned After Damaging Parking Meters

Safety-Service Director Robert Owen warned today that police have been instructed to crack down quickly on a new outbreak of vandalism on parking meters.

The latest incidents were reported on W. 4th and Jefferson Sts., where the big plastic domes enclosing the tops of the meters were smashed deliberately with some sort of heavy object. Owen said it was a case of sheer vandalism, as no effort was made to remove coins from the meters.

Officers have been instructed to keep the area under surveillance in an effort to nab the vandals. If arrests are made, the suspects will be prosecuted "to the full extent of the law," Owen said.

Owen also asked the public to co-operate in the effort to nab the meter vandals. Persons who spot the vandals in action should notify police immediately, he said.

Robert Kelly, meter repairman, said most of the damage was inflicted on later model meters which have the big plastic domes enclosing the dial that indicates parking time.

Sometimes the core of cooked parsnips is woody and needs to be removed.

House Being Moved Slips, Blocks Ohio 43

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — A 10-room, two-story, brick house with attached double garage was right smack across Ohio 43 today. The house slipped off moving equipment near the intersection of 44th Street NE north of here Wednesday night while T. J. Cloonan, president of a house moving firm and owner of the building, was moving it to a new site.

Cloonan estimated it would take two days to get the $45,000 house out of the road. Stark County sheriff's deputies said the house was blocking traffic near the Santa Clara Monastery. The sheriff was rerouting traffic.

Garfield Group Drops PTA Link

The Garfield Parent - Teacher Association voted to discontinue affiliation in the National PTA at a meeting Tuesday evening in the school library.

The group will now be known as the Garfield Parent - Teacher League.

The program featured two films, "Civil Defense In the Schools" and "Civil Defense In Action," were shown by James Walker, city Civil Defense director. A question-and-answer period followed.

The attendance banner was awarded Mrs. Ruby McComas' third grade.

Business was conducted by Charles Heasley, president, and devotions were led by the Rev. S. H. Estel, pastor of the Oakland Free Methodist Church.

Refreshments were served by the second grade homeroom mothers.

Next meeting is March 6.

Drain canned peaches and put a spoonful of maple syrup in each cavity. Heat in the oven and serve with vanilla ice cream.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our son is 11 years old and I just returned from a conference with his seventh-grade teacher.

All my life I've had conferences with his teachers. Every one of his teachers has told me that the boy has not been trained to concentrate, that he daydreams and that we have failed to teach him the meaning of responsibility.

I'm beginning to think we haven't taught him anything. My husband and I apparently made every mistake in the book with this child.

Often I've wished there was a school for parents. So many of us need to know how to bring up our children. I feel like a failure and I don't know what to do about it. Many people have told me we've spoiled our boy, yet nobody tells me what we should do about it. Can you?—D.P.T.

Dear D.P.T.: There's hope for you, Mother. At least you aren't blaming the teachers.

Parents who feel inadequate should get outside help. There are child guidance clinics, specialists who deal with problem children and a great deal of useful literature.

The school principal can direct you in each of these areas. By all means ask! Don't allow your unmotivated, day-dreaming son to shift aimlessly from bad to worse. And take heart—the admission of ignorance is the first step toward wisdom.

Captivated Audience

Dear Ann: A friend of mine told me that you were once in jail. He said he saw you there. Is this true or false? Please answer in the paper. Your readers are entitled to know.—CORKY.

Dear Corky: Your friend is right. I was in jail in February 1959. I spoke to the inmates of the Cook County Jail and am delighted to report it was one of the most attentive audiences I've ever had. Not a soul walked out.

Contented Divorcee

Dear Ann: That letter from Mrs. H.'s friend burns my eyeballs. She said (and I quote), "He wanted a divorce so I made him pay through the nose."

America is the only place in the world where females get away with this sort of armed robbery. If a woman tied her victim with ropes, put a gun to his head and made him sign over all his worldly goods, she'd be put in prison in most countries. Not in America. Here they call it "settlement and alimony."

My husband and I realized after three years of marriage that it was a mistake. We had two small children. I could have put him through the financial meat grinder because he wanted out more than I did (another woman). But I'm not the grabby, vindictive type.

I had a small income from my father's estate and a good job. I knew I could manage with no settlement and modest support check. We parted without bitterness. He still tells our children that I'm the finest, most highly principled woman he ever met. And that's worth a great deal to me.—SATISFIED.

Confidentially

TO TO BE OR NOT TO BE:

Look, Hamlet, the loot is the big attraction and you know it. It's much cheaper to borrow from the bank. Don't marry this woman.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Vandals Warned After Damaging Parking Meters

Safety-Service Director Robert Owen warned today that police have been instructed to crack down quickly on a new outbreak of vandalism on parking meters.

The latest incidents were reported on W. 4th and Jefferson Sts., where the big plastic domes enclosing the tops of the meters were smashed deliberately with some sort of heavy object. Owen said it was a case of sheer vandalism, as no effort was made to remove coins from the meters.

Officers have been instructed to keep the area under surveillance in an effort to nab the vandals. If arrests are made, the suspects will be prosecuted "to the full extent of the law," Owen said.

Owen also asked the public to co-operate in the effort to nab the meter vandals. Persons who spot the vandals in action should notify police immediately, he said.

Robert Kelly, meter repairman, said most of the damage was inflicted on later model meters which have the big plastic domes enclosing the dial that indicates parking time.

Sometimes the core of cooked parsnips is woody and needs to be removed.

House Being Moved Slips, Blocks Ohio 43

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — A 10-room, two-story, brick house with attached double garage was right smack across Ohio 43 today. The house slipped off moving equipment near the intersection of 44th Street NE north of here Wednesday night while T. J. Cloonan, president of a house moving firm and owner of the building, was moving it to a new site.

Cloonan estimated it would take two days to get the $45,000 house out of the road. Stark County sheriff's deputies said the house was blocking traffic near the Santa Clara Monastery. The sheriff was rerouting traffic.

Member Drive Planned

Anniversary Events Set At Midland Youth Center

The Midland Hi-Spot Youth Center's "Heart Hop" Saturday from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. will mark the sixth anniversary of the center, annual Parent - Guest Night and "kick-off" for the 1962 membership drive which begins next week.

The Heart Hop will have a Mardi Gras atmosphere, Mrs. William Spisak, director, announced. Hats will be given at the door and records will provide music for dancing.

A surprise combo will present a rock and roll skit of song and dance from 9 to 9:30, followed by a balloon and serpentine shower, grand march and prizes.

A three-tier anniversary cake will be cut and served and there will be free cookies and punch for students and guests in the game room. Pizza will be sold at the kitchen window.

Miss Fay Filler, Hi-Spot queen, will reign as queen of the "Heart Hop." Volunteer student committees vary for each event. Astera Pacella is chairman of this year's scrapbook and will be assisted by Miss Miller and Gay Coble.

The Adult Advisory Board met last week for its annual reorganization, to review past work and to discuss plans for the Heart Hop, membership and events for the coming year.

Board members are Mrs. Francis H. Shone, Mrs. Leroy Turner, Mrs. Amedio Gianvito, Mrs. Stephen Trbovich, Mrs. Angelo Tozana, Mrs. Stephen Yetso and Mrs. Spisak, chairman and program director.

Other mothers assisting this year are Mrs. John McNeillie, Mrs. William Vinovich, Mrs. Louis Suffoletta.

Mrs. Paul Schlosser, Mrs. Joseph Franzetta, Mrs. Dorothy Kukich, Mrs. Robert Fetterman, Mrs. Kenneth Baum, Mrs. John Petchel and Mrs. John Madish.

Discussion at the board meeting brought out the responsibility and challenge presented by the ever-increasing attendance which ranges from 200 on regular nights to 300 to 375 on nights the center is open after school events, Mrs. Spisak said.

She said the anniversary event will also mark parent and guest night with the hope that, after judging the fitness of the center and its program, more parents will volunteer a few hours of their time on nights when the center is open.

She said it is a difficult task when, at times, as few as three mothers have to care for a crowd of 300.

She said to operate efficiently there should be several mothers in the kitchen, two or three at the admitting desk and several in the large dance floor and game room area. She said the center would appreciate any new parental help, including fathers.

During open house, the Hi-Spot board will welcome parents and interested visitors in the game room and will invite questions. Doors open at 8:15, although official hours are 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Plan May Slash Long Distance Telephone Costs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A plan expected to reduce substantially the cost of long distance telephone calls within each state was announced here Wednesday.

The plan calls for the transfer, through a change in accounting procedures, of $46 million a year in revenue requirements from the intrastate to the interstate operations of the Bell system.

The Federal Communications Commission and the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners have tentatively agreed on the new procedures for determining how much of the telephone company's property evaluation and combined expenses should be charged to interstate operations, Everett H. Krueger said in announcing the plan.

Krueger is an Ohio Public Utilities Commissioner and is chairman of the Communications Problems Committee of the commissioners' association.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said Ohio might received rate reductions of $1.5 to $2 million as a result of the action.

He said utilities commissioners and Ohio Bell officials plan to confer, possibly as early as next week, on the matter of rates.

Whether local service charges or toll charges for calls from one city to another in the same state will be affected, or if they will be affected, is up to each state, Krueger said.

The purpose of the plan is to correct disparity between interstate and intrastate toll charges, he said. As an example, he said, it now costs more to call from Columbus to St. Clairsville, Ohio, than it does to call Wheeling, 10 miles farther east but in West Virginia, or Pittsburgh, Pa., even farther from Columbus.

Problem Of Well Left Up To State

SALINEVILLE — A report on a 24-hour test flow at a well at the site of the planned new Southern Local high school — which showed a flow less than the required minimum — is to be referred to state officials for a decision on whether to sink another well.

The test at the well Tuesday and Wednesday by the Horton Pump Co. of Columbiana showed the 295-foot shaft yielded about five gallons a minute.

State officials have indicated a flow of six to 12 gallons will be required. The report on the test is to be referred to James Schmidt, geologist for the state division of water, to determine if the present shaft should be deepened or a new well sunk at a different site.

Member Drive Planned

Anniversary Events Set At Midland Youth Center

The Midland Hi-Spot Youth Center's "Heart Hop" Saturday from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. will mark the sixth anniversary of the center, annual Parent - Guest Night and "kick-off" for the 1962 membership drive which begins next week.

The Heart Hop will have a Mardi Gras atmosphere, Mrs. William Spisak, director, announced. Hats will be given at the door and records will provide music for dancing.

A surprise combo will present a rock and roll skit of song and dance from 9 to 9:30, followed by a balloon and serpentine shower, grand march and prizes.

A three-tier anniversary cake will be cut and served and there will be free cookies and punch for students and guests in the game room. Pizza will be sold at the kitchen window.

Miss Fay Filler, Hi-Spot queen, will reign as queen of the "Heart Hop." Volunteer student committees vary for each event. Astera Pacella is chairman of this year's scrapbook and will be assisted by Miss Miller and Gay Coble.

The Adult Advisory Board met last week for its annual reorganization, to review past work and to discuss plans for the Heart Hop, membership and events for the coming year.

Board members are Mrs. Francis H. Shone, Mrs. Leroy Turner, Mrs. Amedio Gianvito, Mrs. Stephen Trbovich, Mrs. Angelo Tozana, Mrs. Stephen Yetso and Mrs. Spisak, chairman and program director.

Other mothers assisting this year are Mrs. John McNeillie, Mrs. William Vinovich, Mrs. Louis Suffoletta.

Mrs. Paul Schlosser, Mrs. Joseph Franzetta, Mrs. Dorothy Kukich, Mrs. Robert Fetterman, Mrs. Kenneth Baum, Mrs. John Petchel and Mrs. John Madish.

Discussion at the board meeting brought out the responsibility and challenge presented by the ever-increasing attendance which ranges from 200 on regular nights to 300 to 375 on nights the center is open after school events, Mrs. Spisak said.

She said the anniversary event will also mark parent and guest night with the hope that, after judging the fitness of the center and its program, more parents will volunteer a few hours of their time on nights when the center is open.

She said it is a difficult task when, at times, as few as three mothers have to care for a crowd of 300.

She said to operate efficiently there should be several mothers in the kitchen, two or three at the admitting desk and several in the large dance floor and game room area. She said the center would appreciate any new parental help, including fathers.

During open house, the Hi-Spot board will welcome parents and interested visitors in the game room and will invite questions. Doors open at 8:15, although official hours are 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Plan May Slash Long Distance Telephone Costs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A plan expected to reduce substantially the cost of long distance telephone calls within each state was announced here Wednesday.

The plan calls for the transfer, through a change in accounting procedures, of $46 million a year in revenue requirements from the intrastate to the interstate operations of the Bell system.

The Federal Communications Commission and the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners have tentatively agreed on the new procedures for determining how much of the telephone company's property evaluation and combined expenses should be charged to interstate operations, Everett H. Krueger said in announcing the plan.

Krueger is an Ohio Public Utilities Commissioner and is chairman of the Communications Problems Committee of the commissioners' association.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said Ohio might received rate reductions of $1.5 to $2 million as a result of the action.

He said utilities commissioners and Ohio Bell officials plan to confer, possibly as early as next week, on the matter of rates.

Whether local service charges or toll charges for calls from one city to another in the same state will be affected, or if they will be affected, is up to each state, Krueger said.

The purpose of the plan is to correct disparity between interstate and intrastate toll charges, he said. As an example, he said, it now costs more to call from Columbus to St. Clairsville, Ohio, than it does to call Wheeling, 10 miles farther east but in West Virginia, or Pittsburgh, Pa., even farther from Columbus.

Problem Of Well Left Up To State

SALINEVILLE — A report on a 24-hour test flow at a well at the site of the planned new Southern Local high school — which showed a flow less than the required minimum — is to be referred to state officials for a decision on whether to sink another well.

The test at the well Tuesday and Wednesday by the Horton Pump Co. of Columbiana showed the 295-foot shaft yielded about five gallons a minute.

State officials have indicated a flow of six to 12 gallons will be required. The report on the test is to be referred to James Schmidt, geologist for the state division of water, to determine if the present shaft should be deepened or a new well sunk at a different site.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Muscle Should Replace Fat In Figure

The place to begin exercise is in the middle of the figure. To get the general idea, place hands at either side of your waist, thumbs back, starting at each side of the waistline.

Ida Jean Kain

Encircle the waist in front with forefingers, letting the other fingers span out below the waist, fan-shaped fashion. Now press down and in. That's the part of the anatomy most folks dub the stomach, but actually it's the abdomen. This is nature's favorite parking place for fat.

There is no bony support in the middle of the figure, so it is essential to keep tone in the girdle muscles, the four pairs of muscles which form the abdominal wall. Pull up-and-in with the girdle muscles and you can immediately see the streamlining effects of this muscle action.

THIS MUSCULAR girdle is not just for appearances. The prime purpose is to pull up and support the important internal organs.

Tone in the middle muscles can quicken energy and bring a fillip of fine feeling. Even though you skip all other calisthenics, it will pay to take a few conditioners daily.

The up-pull action comes first, so the beginning exercise helps strengthen the long front up-pullers. By the way, anyone can take these easy exercises.

Position: Lie on back on floor, right knee flexed and sole of right foot flat on floor. Have left leg stretched straight down. Keep arms on floor at sides.

Action: Keeping knee straight, slowly raise left leg past a 45 degree angle. Then, ever so slowly lower leg to floor, lowering to a slow count of ten. Repeat, this time pay particular attention to what is happening to the small of your back as leg is lowered.

It is important to keep small of back smack against the floor and hold it there. This double action affords resistance with the in-pull muscles of the abdomen. Repeat the exercise six times, slowly. Change the position of your feet and slowly raise and lower with the right leg. Continue to breathe freely.

Later, when your middle muscles are a bit stronger, you can add resistance by wearing a heavy shoe on the foot that is being raised and lowered. Again, make sure to keep the small of back pressed flat against the floor.

To reach the side-front muscles, try this toner.

Position: Lie on back, both knees bent, soles of feet on floor, arms at sides.

Action: Raise hips just an inch off floor, and as you tilt hips ever so slightly toward right side, pull up-and-in snugly with the side-front muscles...h-o-l-d. Do not hold your breath.

REPEAT BY coming back to center and tilting hips toward left, pull in firmly and hold, to slow count of six. Count out loud so as not to hold your breath. Repeat 6 to 10 times. Finish with a thorough - going tip to toe stretch.

The above exercises can help to flatten the frontline and secure the waist, for it is the side-front muscles which hold the waistline in check.

Send a stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Real Estate Dealers Cited In Housing Plan

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — City Manager Charles Thompson says real estate interests have tried to halt a public housing project in the city.

He said Wednesday night the dealers offered lists of buildings that could accommodate 110 low income families displayed by a slum clearance development. He said he would confer with federal housing officials who must determine if the dealers' proposals meet requirements that a public project would provide.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of Samuel J. Lawton who passed away 6 years ago today. Altho your soul is now at rest And free from care and pain. The world would seem Like Heaven If we Had you back again. The years may wipe out many things But this they wipe out never. The memory of those happy days When We were all together. Sadly missed by his Loving family

ESTHER GOODWIN. In loving memory of our dear wife and mother who passed away one year ago today.
Today recalls sad memories of a dear one gone to rest, and the ones who think of you today are the ones who loved you most.
Husband, daughter and grandchildren

In loving memory of Helen Elizabeth Cook
When the evening shades are falling
And we are sitting all alone
In our hearts there comes a longing
If you only could come home.
No one knows the silent heart ache
Only those that have lost can tell
If the tears we shed in silence
For the one we loved so well
We have only your memory Helen
To treasure our whole life through
But it's sweetness will last forever
As we cherish our memory of you.
Sadly missed by all who loved her
Mr. and Mrs. Sep Cook

IN loving memory of my dear Father, JOHN DIMMOCK, who passed away 14 years ago today, Feb. 8, 1948. They say time heals all sorrows, And helps us to forget, But time so far has only proved How much we miss him yet. But God gives us strength to fight And courage to heal the blow, And what it means to lose him, No one will ever know. Sadly missed by his loving Daughter, May Dimmock Kibble.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Muscle Should Replace Fat In Figure

The place to begin exercise is in the middle of the figure. To get the general idea, place hands at either side of your waist, thumbs back, starting at each side of the waistline.

Ida Jean Kain

Encircle the waist in front with forefingers, letting the other fingers span out below the waist, fan-shaped fashion. Now press down and in. That's the part of the anatomy most folks dub the stomach, but actually it's the abdomen. This is nature's favorite parking place for fat.

There is no bony support in the middle of the figure, so it is essential to keep tone in the girdle muscles, the four pairs of muscles which form the abdominal wall. Pull up-and-in with the girdle muscles and you can immediately see the streamlining effects of this muscle action.

THIS MUSCULAR girdle is not just for appearances. The prime purpose is to pull up and support the important internal organs.

Tone in the middle muscles can quicken energy and bring a fillip of fine feeling. Even though you skip all other calisthenics, it will pay to take a few conditioners daily.

The up-pull action comes first, so the beginning exercise helps strengthen the long front up-pullers. By the way, anyone can take these easy exercises.

Position: Lie on back on floor, right knee flexed and sole of right foot flat on floor. Have left leg stretched straight down. Keep arms on floor at sides.

Action: Keeping knee straight, slowly raise left leg past a 45 degree angle. Then, ever so slowly lower leg to floor, lowering to a slow count of ten. Repeat, this time pay particular attention to what is happening to the small of your back as leg is lowered.

It is important to keep small of back smack against the floor and hold it there. This double action affords resistance with the in-pull muscles of the abdomen. Repeat the exercise six times, slowly. Change the position of your feet and slowly raise and lower with the right leg. Continue to breathe freely.

Later, when your middle muscles are a bit stronger, you can add resistance by wearing a heavy shoe on the foot that is being raised and lowered. Again, make sure to keep the small of back pressed flat against the floor.

To reach the side-front muscles, try this toner.

Action: Raise hips just an inch off floor, and as you tilt hips ever so slightly toward right side, pull up-and-in snugly with the side-front muscles...h-o-l-d. Do not hold your breath.

REPEAT BY coming back to center and tilting hips toward left, pull in firmly and hold, to slow count of six. Count out loud so as not to hold your breath. Repeat 6 to 10 times. Finish with a thorough - going tip to toe stretch.

The above exercises can help to flatten the frontline and secure the waist, for it is the side-front muscles which hold the waistline in check.

Send a stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Real Estate Dealers Cited In Housing Plan

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — City Manager Charles Thompson says real estate interests have tried to halt a public housing project in the city.

He said Wednesday night the dealers offered lists of buildings that could accommodate 110 low income families displayed by a slum clearance development. He said he would confer with federal housing officials who must determine if the dealers' proposals meet requirements that a public project would provide.

Junior Editors Quiz on PLANTS

QUESTION: Do plants have feelings?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: They do not have the same feelings that people have. They do not seem to suffer when they are cut. But many plants are extremely sensitive to outside influences. They react quickly to changes of temperature, they suffer from lack of water and must not be handled too much. There is a plant called the Sensitive Plant which quickly reacts to being touched. When the leaves are touched they seem to shrink, and instantly they draw together and fold close to the branch, which then bends closer to the stem. If it is left alone, for a while the leaves will open again, but at just a touch it will fold up as before. The true Sentitive Plant comes from South America and is 18 inches tall. It is related to the pea.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Here is a girl with a Sensitive Plant. A quick touch on the plant has made the leaves nearest her close up tight. Have you ever seen a sensitive plant?

Beaver County Girl Scouts Set Sale Of Cookies

The Beaver County Girl Scout Council will hold the annual cookie sale Feb. 16-March 2, including the Midland area. Mrs. Andrew Sandor of Baden is general county cookie chairman.

Mrs. Kenneth Saxton of Beaver Falls, executive director, said proceeds will be used for camp development. The Girl Scout organization participates in the United Fund Agency but none of fund money is used for camp projects, she said.

Mrs. Saxton said about $13,000 was realized in the 1961 cookie sale and the proceeds went towards acquiring the camp site—Camp Fombelina, near Fombell, in addition to furthering the camping program. A swimming pool at the camp is the goal set by the council this year.

District chairman assisting Mrs. Sandor include Mrs. George Mastrovich of Industry.
